SOUTHPORT HIGH SCHOOL, INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA

The New Look of '59...

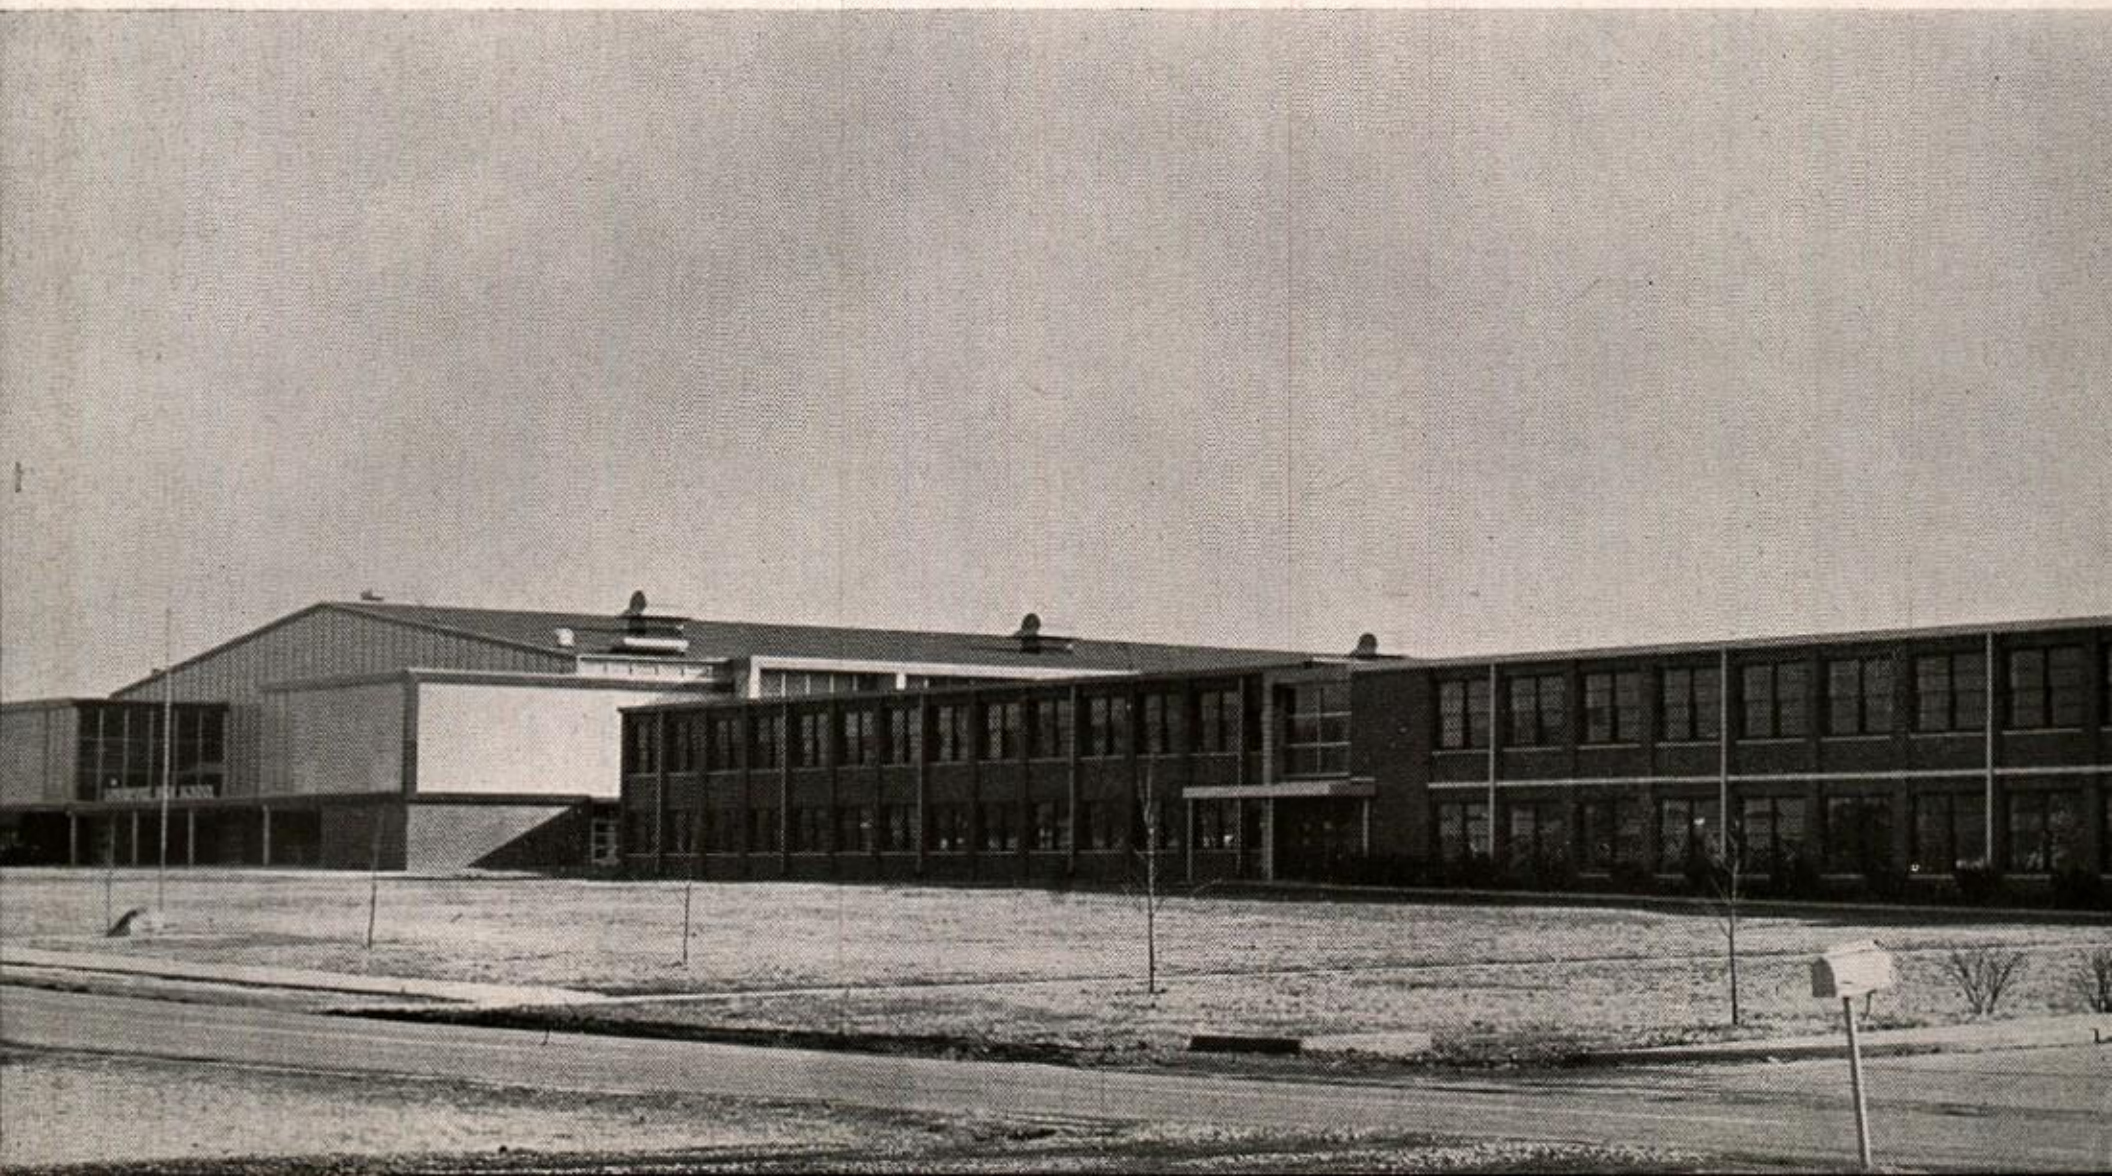
The year 1958-59 will long be remembered as the year of another momentous move, bringing with it great changes and challenges that create a "new look" for Southport. The greatest of these changes is to become acclimated to our new and modernistic surroundings.

This "new look," however, is set against a giant panoramic background of the past; and on this panorama are cherished memories that are held dear by every graduate who has passed through the halls of Southport High School since the first class in 1891.

In meeting the changes and challenges of the past year, we, the Senior Class of 1959, hope that we have done our part to set a standard that will always challenge the best of the students in the classes to follow.

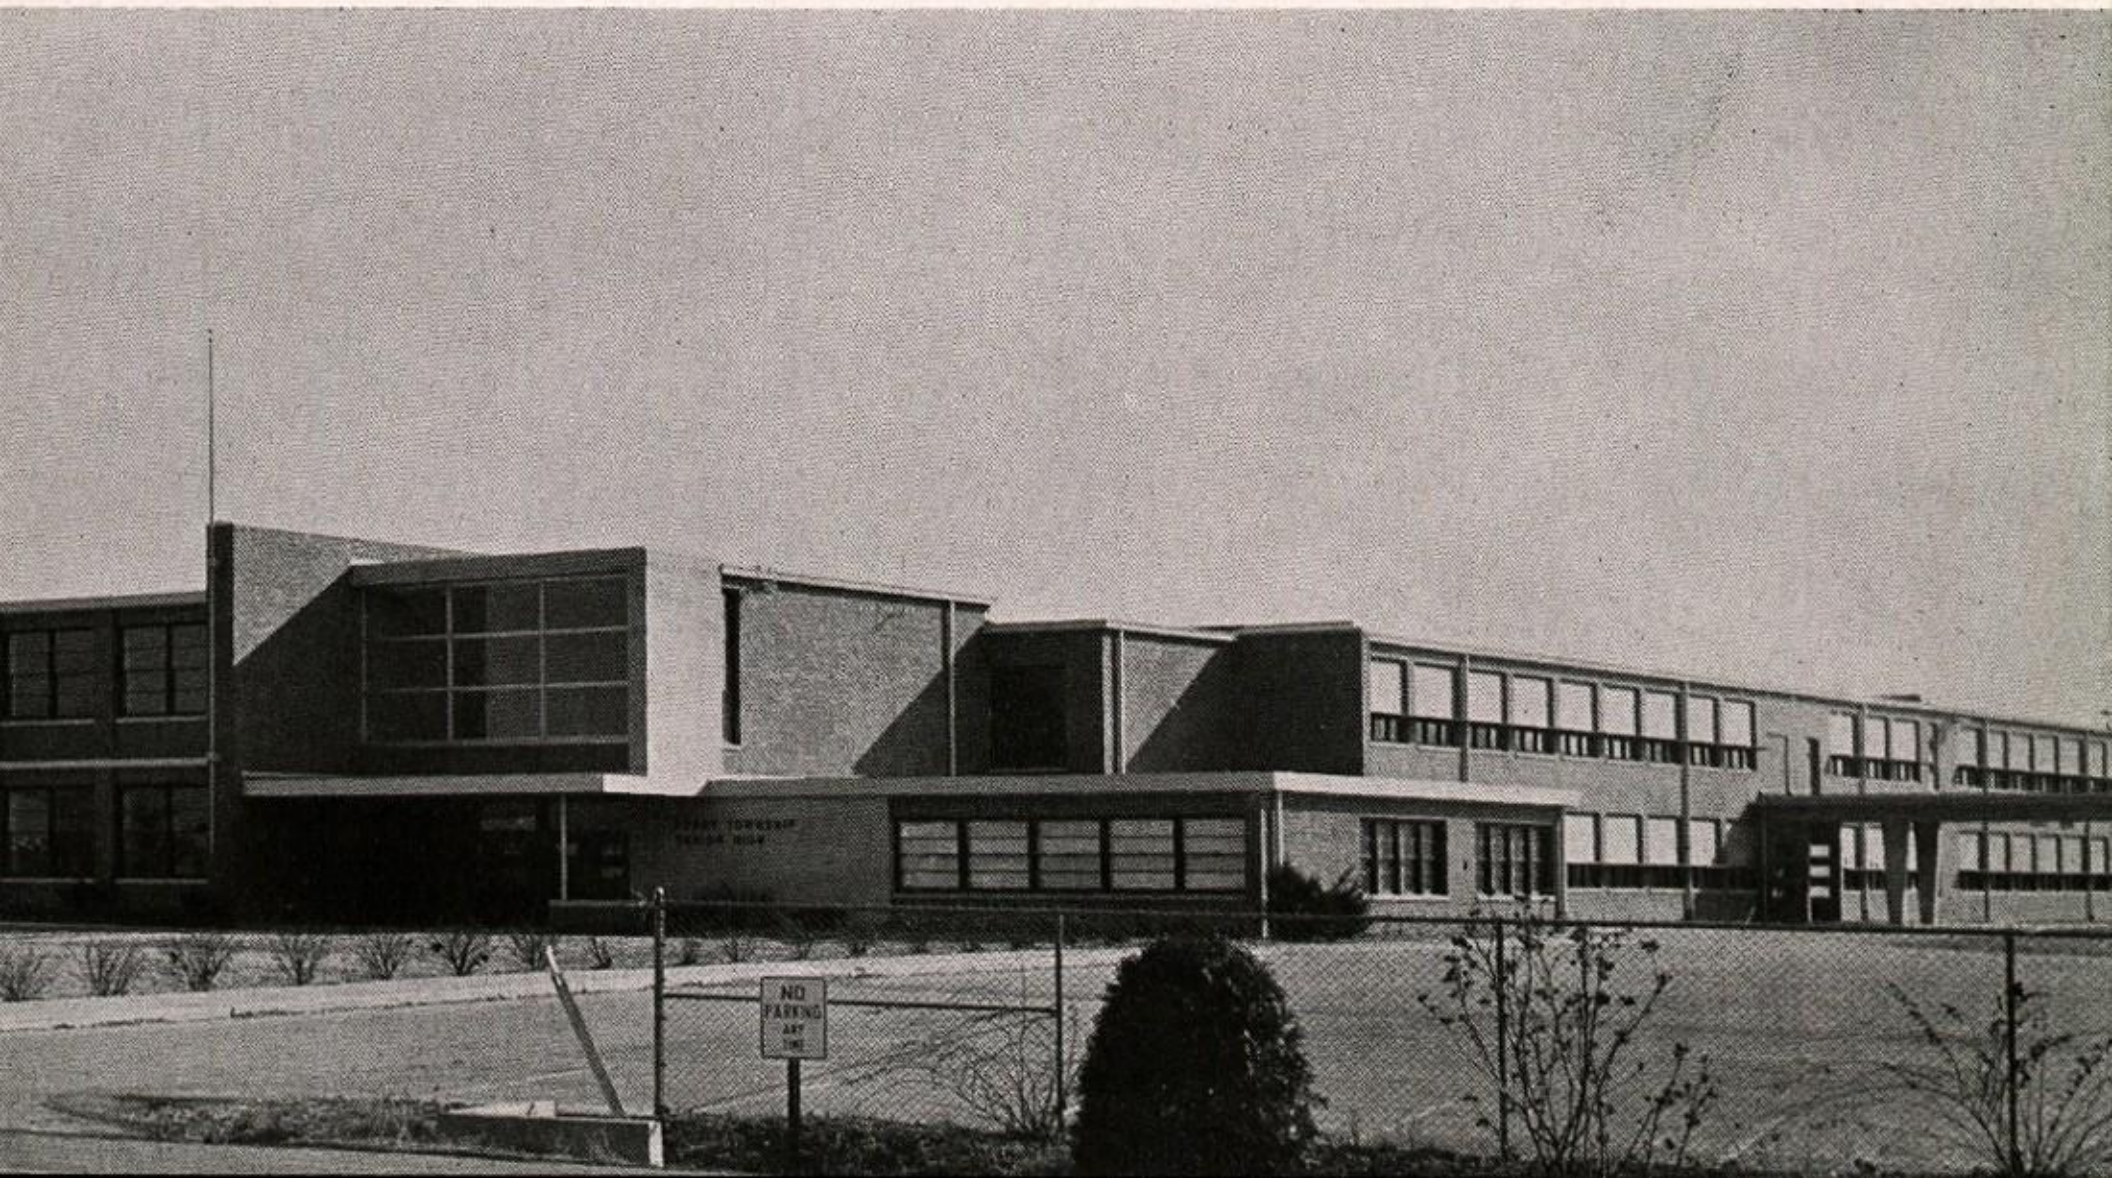
As we take our places in the world, it will be our aim to continue to use every challenge as a stepping stone to nobler achievement.

After the original school building burned, the above two-story structure was erected. It housed Southport pupils until 1930.



For twenty-eight years the above building, designed after William and Mary College, served as our senior high school. It has now become the junior high school.

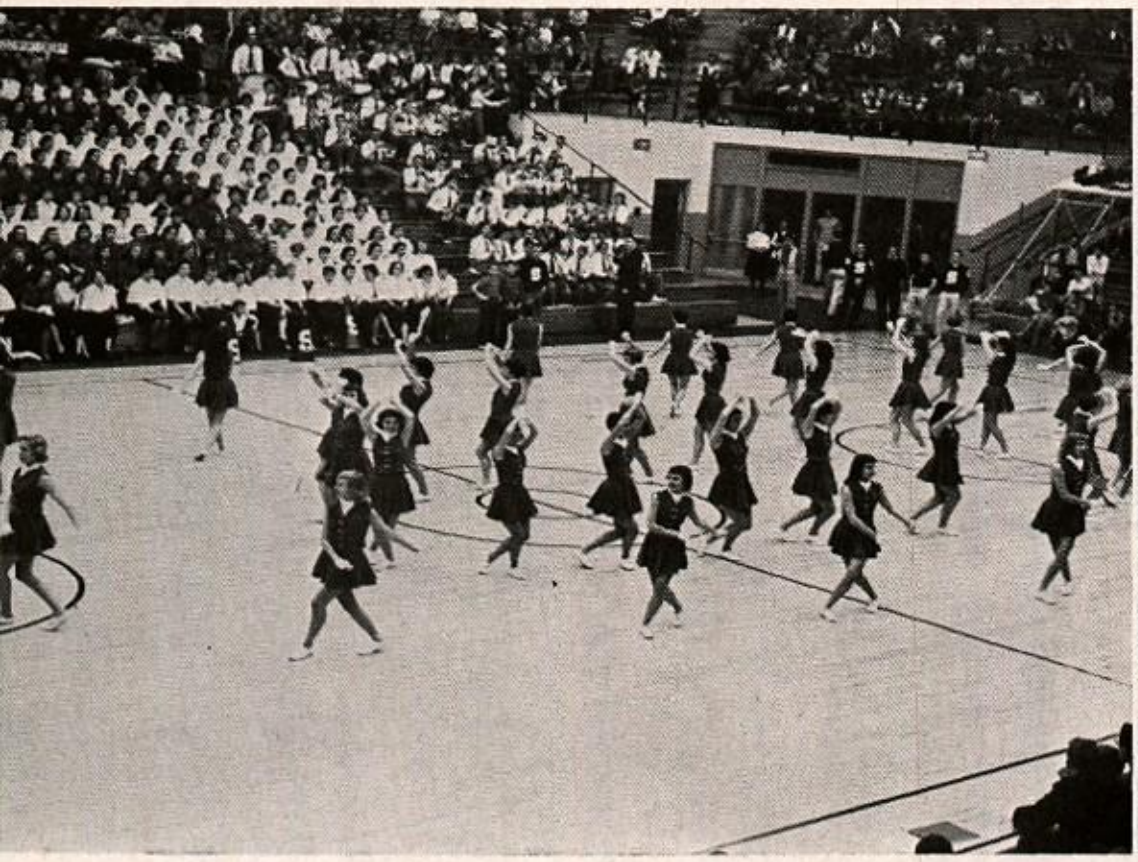
An enrollment of 1,600 . . . a faculty of 64 . . . 63 classrooms . . . a new fieldhouse . . . and freshmen . . . all are just a few of the many things which have produced "The New Look of '59."



Southport's lockers seem to grow in size behind Sandy Ganes and David Woerner. "The bigger they come, the harder they fall!" is the slogan of these new freshmen.

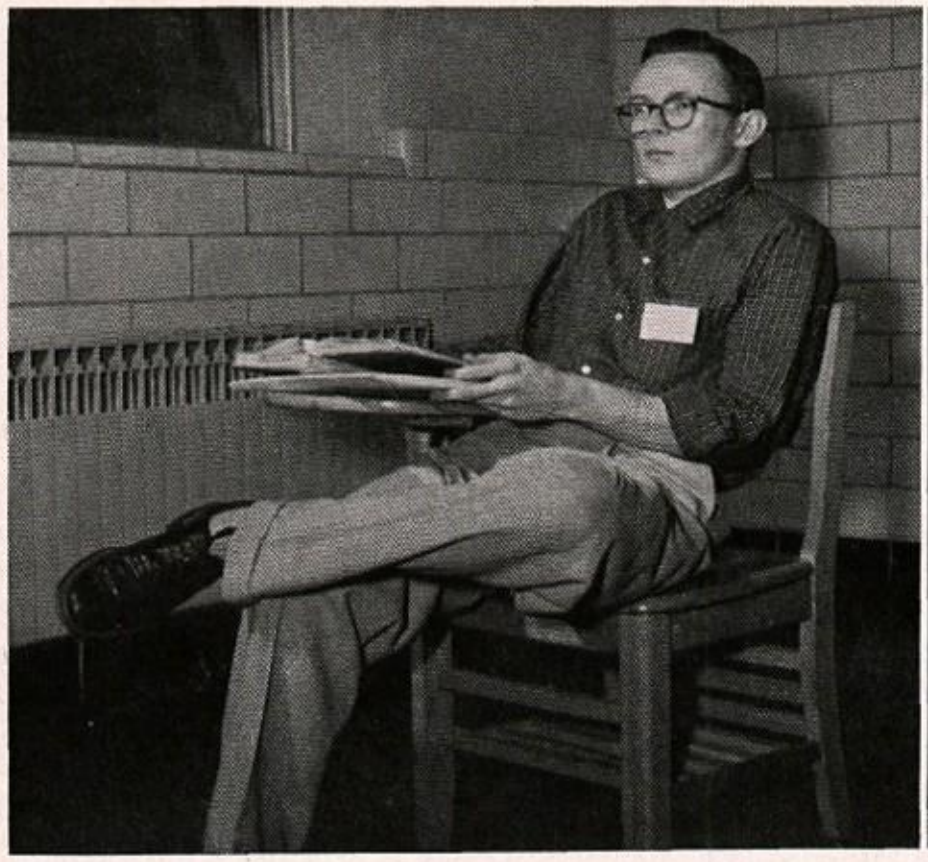
As the years fly by, school life changes; and 1959 saw the beginning of many innovations. The freshmen guided dignified upperclassmen through the halls of their former junior high. Each senior donned his best "bib and tucker" at Christmas time and thus originated "Senior Dress-Up Day." Our "bigger and better" Homecoming featured a parade of class floats and club cars. Braden's Raiders raised the new gym roof with their "Hey, Blackie! Go! Go! Go!" County tourney, sectional, and regional weekends furnished an opportunity for coke and slumber parties. After the games, victories were celebrated and defeats were mourned at pep sessions and soc-hops. Yes, 1959, a year of senior sneakers and pizzas, will long be remembered by all.

The New Look



Practice, practice, and more practice—that's what made our flag corps so successful. The girls in their red and white uniforms make a picturesque scene.

The seniors chose the last day before Christmas vacation to innovate a dress-up day; therefore, all seniors appeared in their "Sunday best." Near the tree appear Joe Mueller, Judy Darnell, Jayne Tegeler, and Ray Kappmeyer.



The hall monitor serves as a host to visitors and new students; he also checks all students for hall passes.

A student is attracted by the latest news and features carried in Southport's bimonthly newspaper. The student body voted recently to change the name of the newspaper from "The Perry News" to "The Southport Journal."

Mr. George accepted the keys to the new gym on behalf of Perry Township. This event took place between halves of the Southport-Tech basketball game on November 29, 1958.

Another new feature at Southport High is the Biology Museum. All interested students are welcome to visit the museum.

. . . Every Place

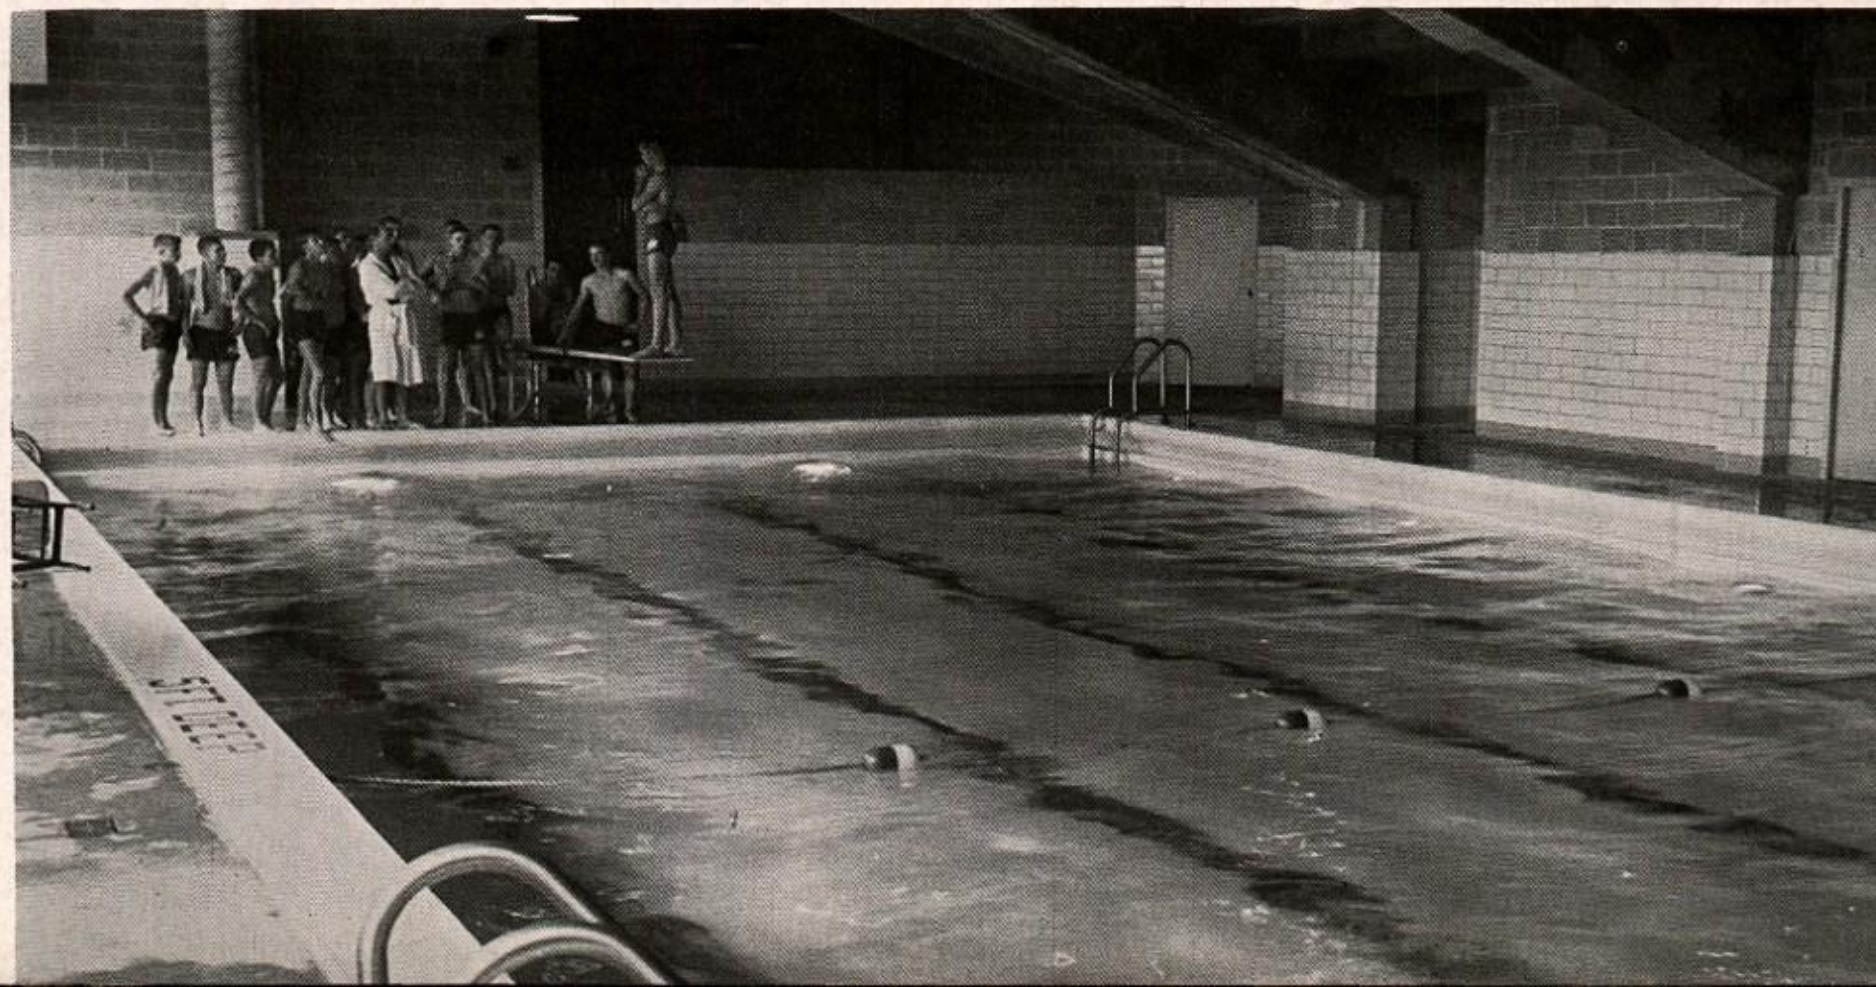
One of our most discussed "new looks" was the swimming pool. Four classes of boys and two of girls swim each day, as well as both boys' and girls' intramural teams. A swimming team of boys was organized; and the Dolphinettes, representing the girls, held a show in the spring.



The new band lockers provided a safe and much improved place for the band members to keep their instruments. Inspecting the lockers are Judy Darnell, Bill Lyon, Marcia Brittan, Mr. Schmalfeldt, director, Bill Hunter and Lurea Eaton.

Was our school spirit above par? If it wasn't, it most certainly was close to it, as we can see from this picture. The senior girls presented a skit at almost every pep session and the yell leaders, both varsity and reserve, led us in many yells. Here we are in action at the pep session before the Columbus-Southport football game.

Each year a hearing test, given by the Marion County Board of Health, is taken by the Sophomores of this school. Mrs. Tanner, from the Board of Health, is giving the test to Alan Trinkle while Charles Tindell and John Stuart await their turn. The school nurse is Mrs. Rund.

Changes in the sports and social world at Southport became insignificant compared to those which took place in scholastic achievements. In 1959, a total of 64 teachers led students through the mysteries of subjects ranging from Latin to trigonometry. New facilities increased available subjects to include auto shop, swimming, and advanced mechanical drawing. More stress on the harder subjects, especially s c i e n c e and math, brought on a streamlined four-year math course. Students can now obtain ten credits in this subject.

. . . And Every Class

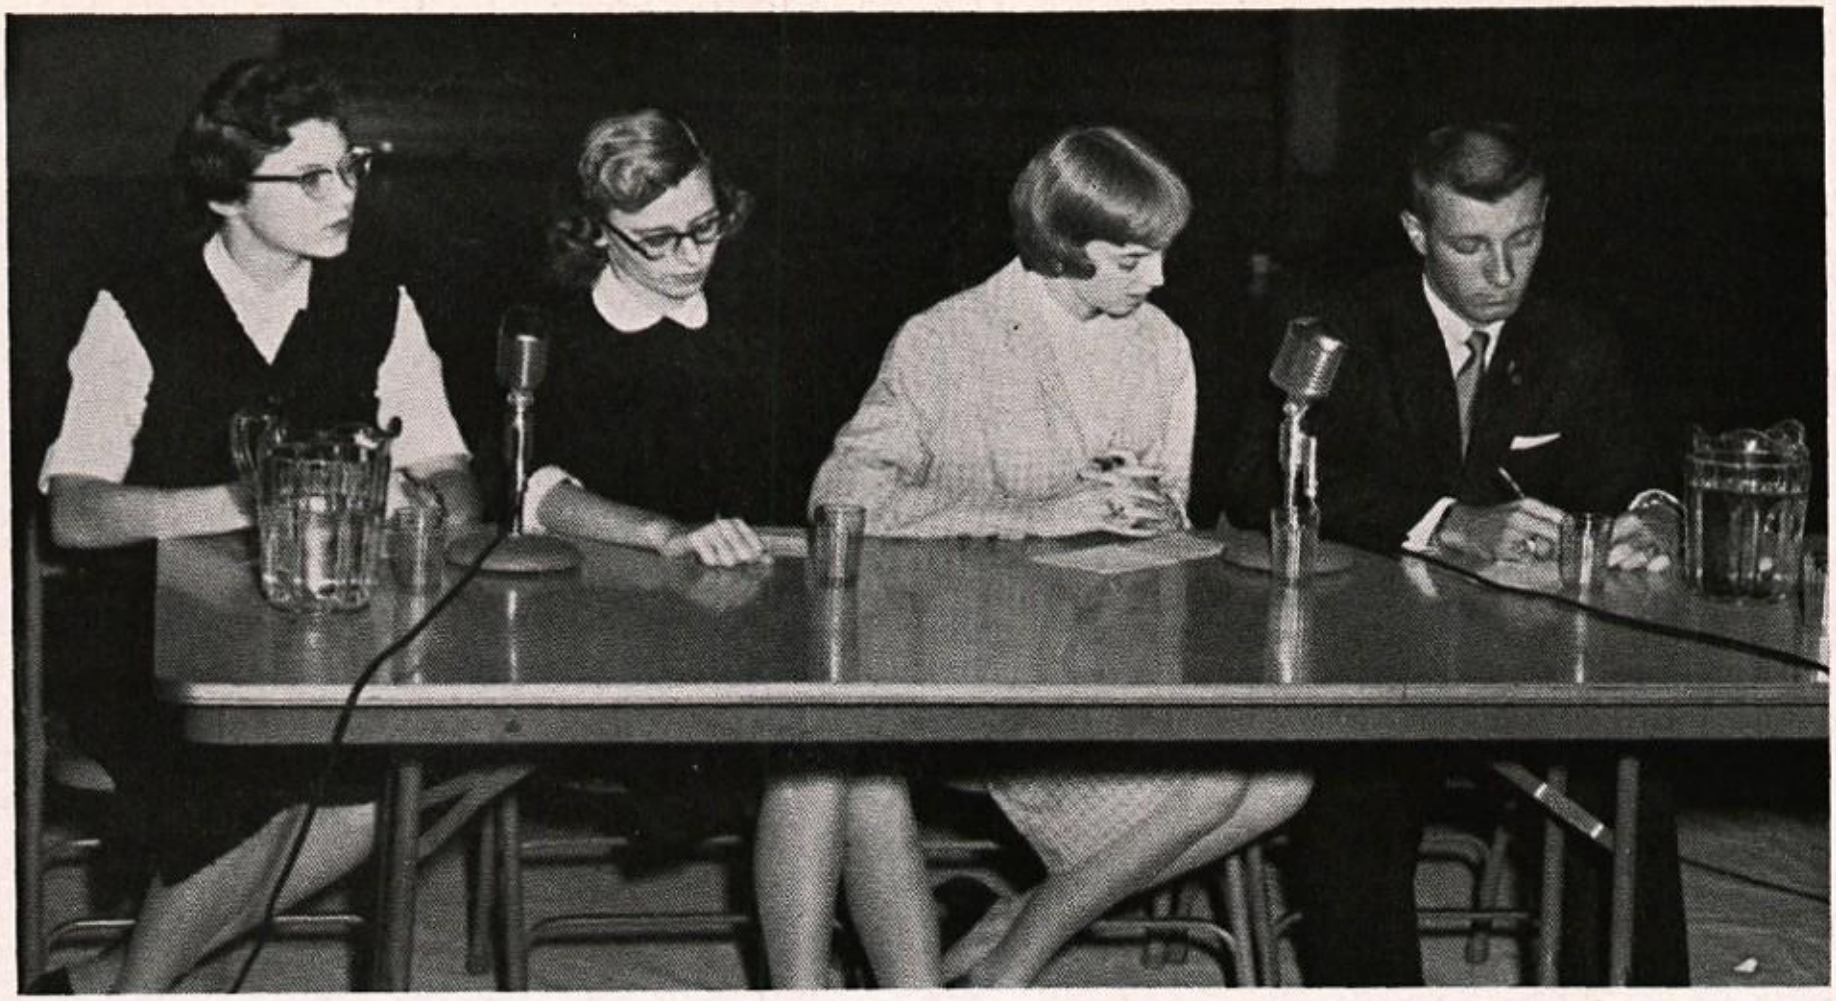
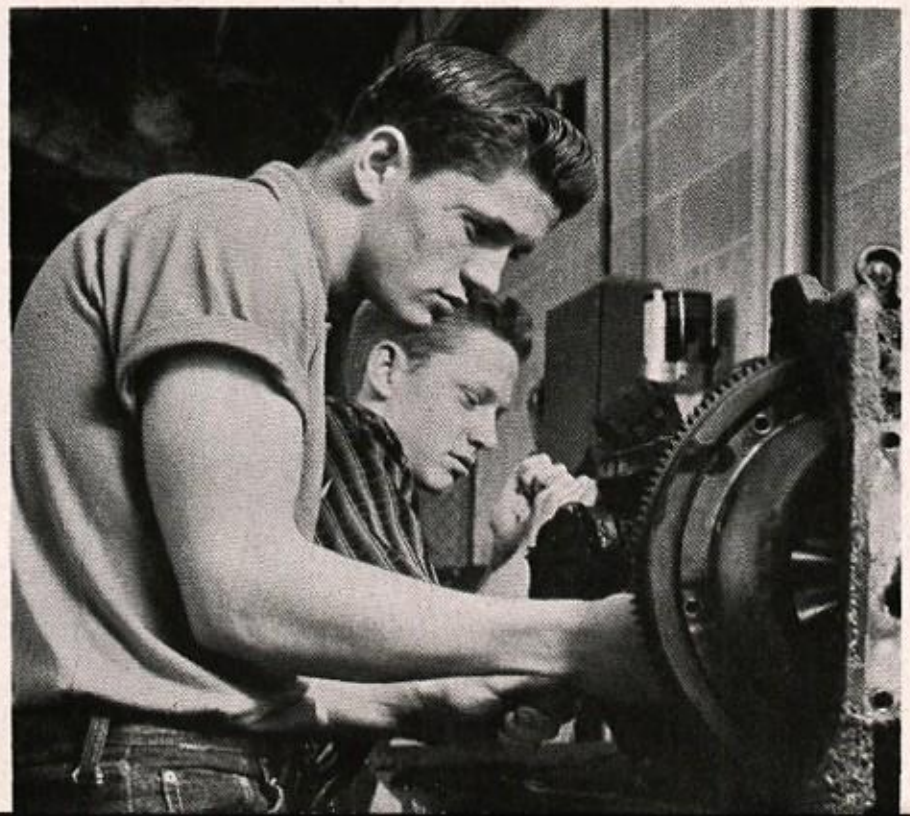
Learning is more interesting when everyone can participate. These students perform experiments twice a week under the supervision of chemistry teachers. New equipment and more room enable the classes to explore deeper into the mysteries of science.



These four seniors, Carol Alvord, Betty Fine, Cecilia Rice, and Richard McCullough, presented the teen-age views concerning their problems in answer to questions asked by Mr. Irving Leibowitz of "The Indianapolis Times" at a P.T.A. meeting.

In our new auto shop, the students learn many things about automobiles and engines. Pictured below are Neil Lord (foreground) and Dale Tumey using their knowledge in a practical application.



A larger office and a better equipped bookstore are two additions that made it more convenient for Mrs. Weaver, our school treasurer.

. . . With Many New Facilities

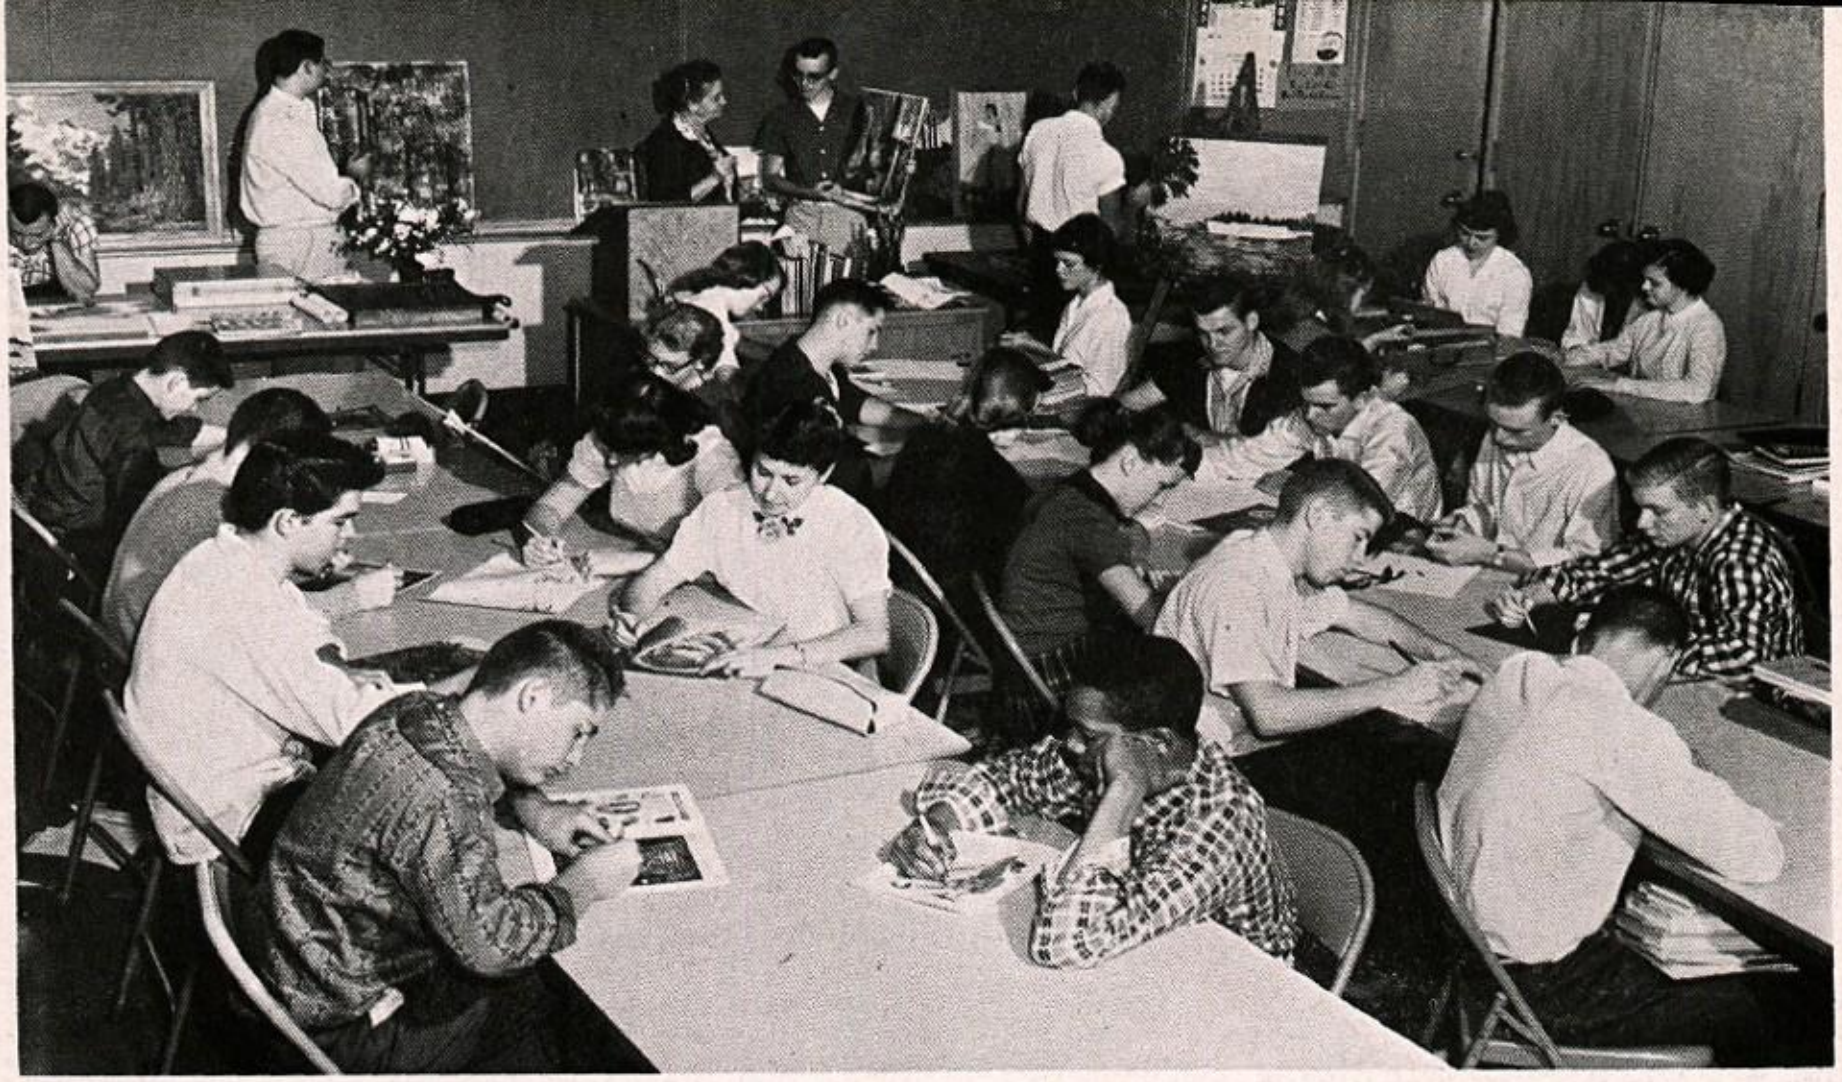
"Oh, see Spot! See Puff!" Ann Eggerding and Donna Barkhaus listen to their young "pupils" read from their first readers. They are just two of the many cadet teachers at Edgewood, Southport, and Burkhart Grade Schools.

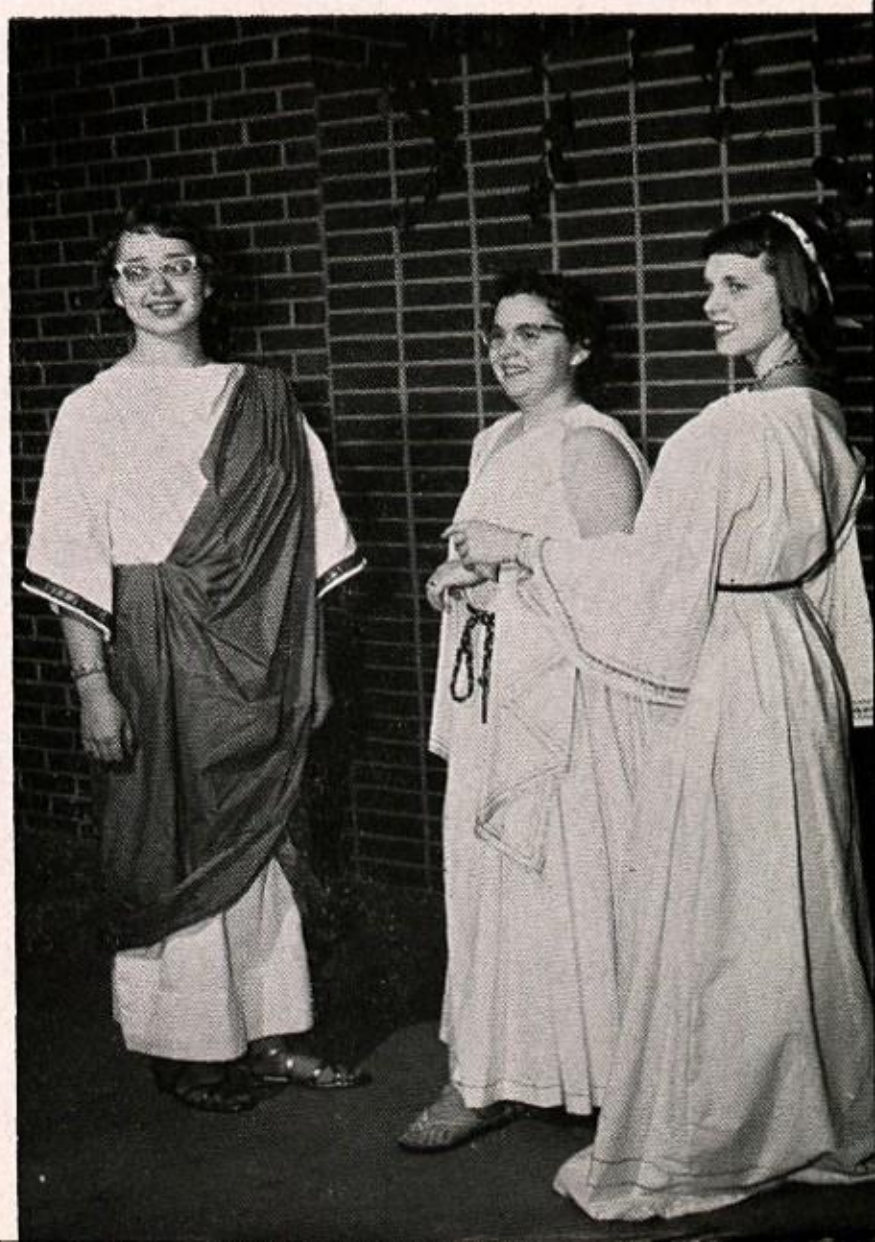
There were 210 students enrolled in the more difficult sciences, physics and chemistry. Taking advantage of the languages, Latin, Spanish, and the new course in German, were 375 pupils. Drivers' training can now be taken for credit. A new English 5R class teaches juniors the fundamentals of grammar. Commercial pupils were offered business arithmetic, business law, general business, and several other courses. All of these new courses enable pupils to learn more about those subjects which interest them.

In these kitchen units the girls taking home economics have fun learning practical skills in the culinary art.

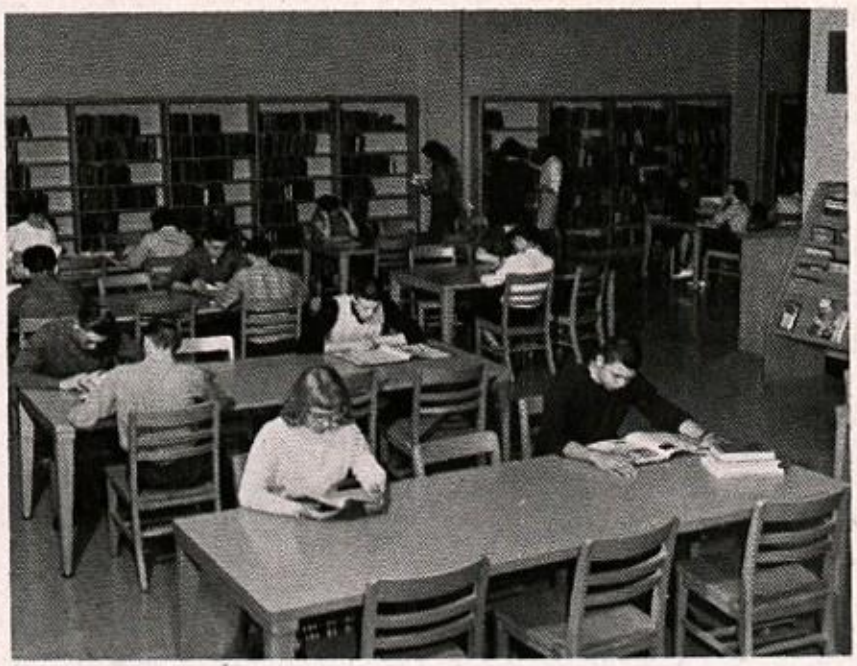


Another Rembrandt or Picasso? Only the future will show what these talented art students will do. They are under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Winans. Posters, decorations for various organizations, and the participation in the annual Scholastic Magazine Art Awards filled the busy schedule of the art classes this year.

Elaine Albers, JoAnn Schisla, and Donna Barkhaus fashion some of the best togas made for a style show held by the Advanced Latin Club.



Southport's library has become larger and more modern as the school has grown. The original library had 150 books; our '59 library boasts some 5,000 books.



Queens and kings reigned over Southport's annual dances. Our first dance in the new field house was the Sweater Swirl. Mr. and Miss Scrimmage were crowned at this affair which honored football and cross country athletes. To protect the basketball floor, no shoes were permitted; and prizes were awarded for the most original "footies." Our only other "shoeless" dance was the Crystal Ball. The Student Council sponsored this gala holiday affair. The boys eagerly awaited the Turn-About Twirl where the girls did the asking and furnished transportation, corsages, and after-dance refreshments. Juniors entertained seniors at the annual prom. Only members of these two classes and their guests were invited. The final social event of the year was the May Dance. At this formal affair May Court candidates from each class were chosen.

The boys eagerly look forward to the Turn-About Twirl. It is at this dance that the girls treat the boys to dinner, dancing, transportation and corsages. Prior to the dance, Nancy Brier pins her unique corsage on Terry Fewell.

NEW FIELDHOUSE PROVIDED

This picture shows how well attended and popular the dances at Southport are. The G.A.A. Dance, held in May, honors all spring athletes and is the only formal dance open to all students in the school as well as the alumni.

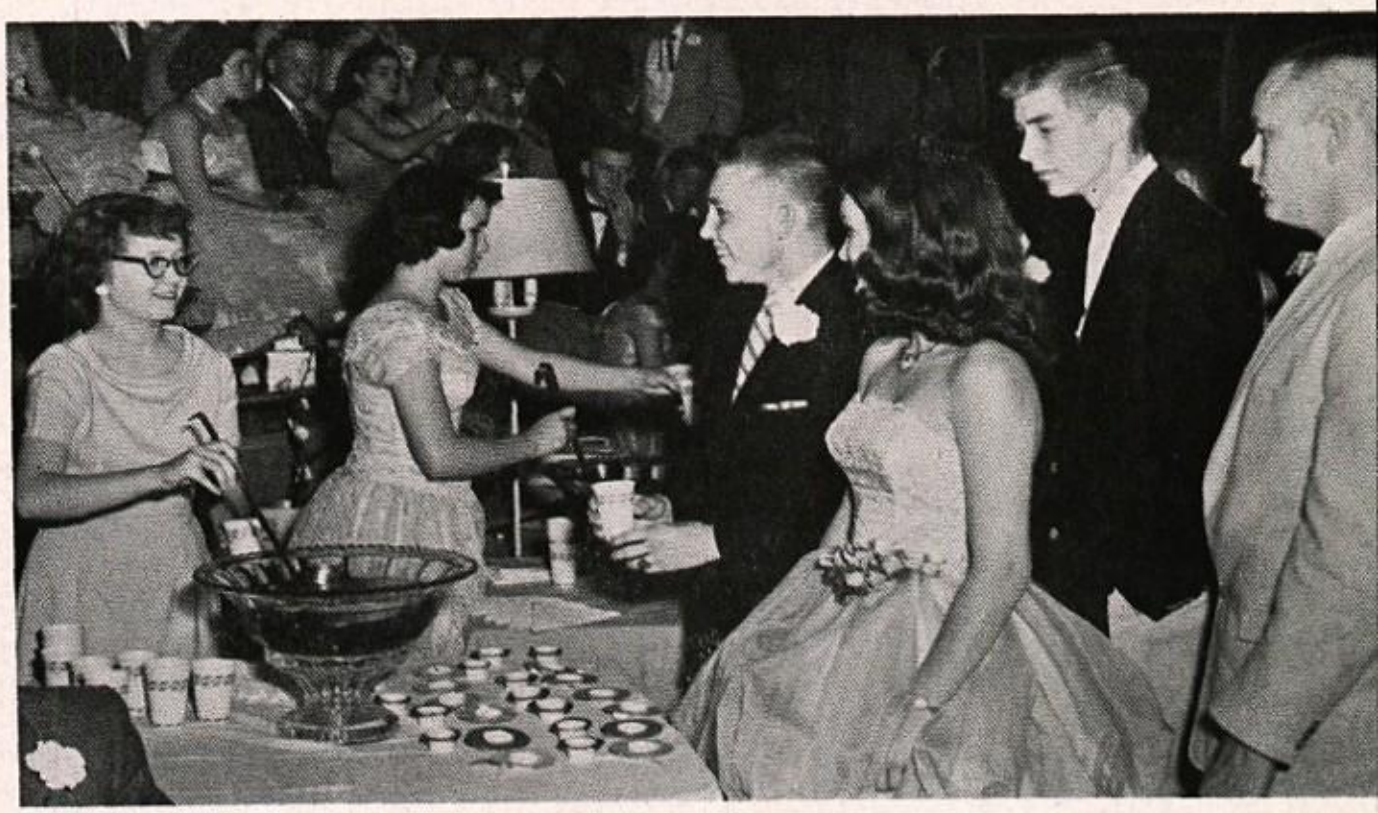
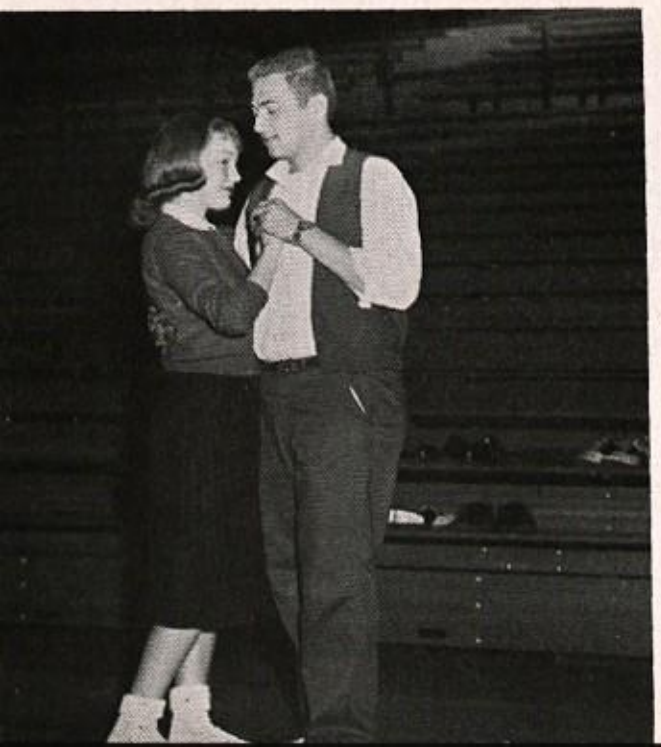
. . . SETTING FOR MANY DANCES

The refreshments served at every dance were enjoyed by everyone. This typical scene is from the May Dance which is sponsored by the G.A.A.



Our dances in the early part of the year were characterized by "no shoes on the floor." Ruby Berry and Jim Betzler are enjoying one of these dances in socks.



At the close of the football season each year a Mr. and Miss Scrimmage are chosen to reign at the annual Sweater Swirl.

In May, a dance in honor of the spring athletes is given by G.A.A. at which three queens are chosen to reign. The senior girl is the queen of service, the junior is queen of personality, and the sophomore is queen of beauty.

Mr. and Miss Scrimmage for 1958 were Jeff Coulter and Linda Langley. Their court was composed of Vickie Davis, Kenny Nierman, Sue Wasson, Jim Green, Carolyn Goodnight, and Bob Ashman.

THOSE CROWNING EVENTS

The May Queens were senior, Lou Manning; junior, Dolores Hogue; sophomore, Donna Emmons; and their court Carolyn Goodnight, Nancy Jo Dawson, Pat Tapscott, Wilma Bockes, Cindy Orme, Edith Schnier, and Madelyn Enders.

Prima donna Artith Bright fascinates her audience with a pert ballet while Helen Hardegan claims she "Cain't Say No!"

Each year in the month of May a talent show is produced for the student body and P.T.A. Last year the theme was "Cardinal Bandstand."

The first prize of five dollars was awarded to Don Lee and his band; tied for second prize of three dollars were Bill Brittan with a trumpet solo and Helen Hardegan with a song from "Oklahoma"; third prize of two dollars was captured by John Walker for a piano solo.

THE CARDINAL BANDSTAND

As a sophomore, Kevin Drake tapped his way into the 1958 Talent Show. Two senior singing ensembles also won reccgnition. The finale consisted of the annual parade of senior girls singing "Halls of Ivy."

"PAINT THE TOWN PINK!"

"Paint the Town Pink," this year's senior play, turned into a small riot when Mr. Clark, principal of Mansfield High School, instituted a turnabout day between the students and the faculty.

Christy, student secretary, got confused and told the painter color number "32," which was a shocking pink, for the conference room. Then there were the new tables and chairs for the cafeteria that arrived late.

"MAUDIE AND THE OPPOSITE SEX"

Poor Maudie! Her parents decided that her romance with her boy friend, Davy, needed a cooling off period and took her to a lonely resort five hundred miles from home. Maudie staged a counter attack; she threw herself at an objectionable male with the hope that this would make her parents beg her to go back to Davy. Maudie's scheme backfired and many complications arose. But all ended happily in the 1958 Junior Play, "Maudie and the Opposite Sex."

Each year on Easter Sunday various churches of the community unite for a combined Easter Sunrise Service, the theme of which is "The Resurrection."

The musical portion of the program is presented by adults, students, and children who compose a combined choir. They represent the schools and the churches of the community.

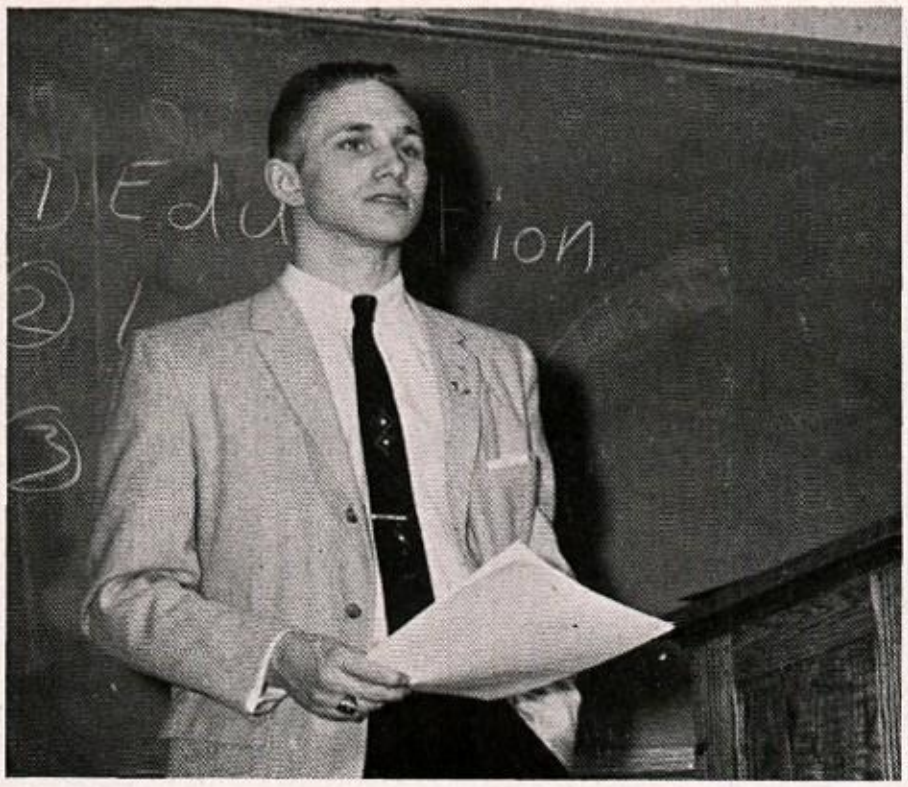
Responsible for the outstanding Sunrise Service were Miss Blanche Penrod, Chairman, and her many committees. Also, the pupils of Southport display their talent by portraying the characters and designing the impressive background for the pageant.

This represents one of the three holiday services that are celebrated.

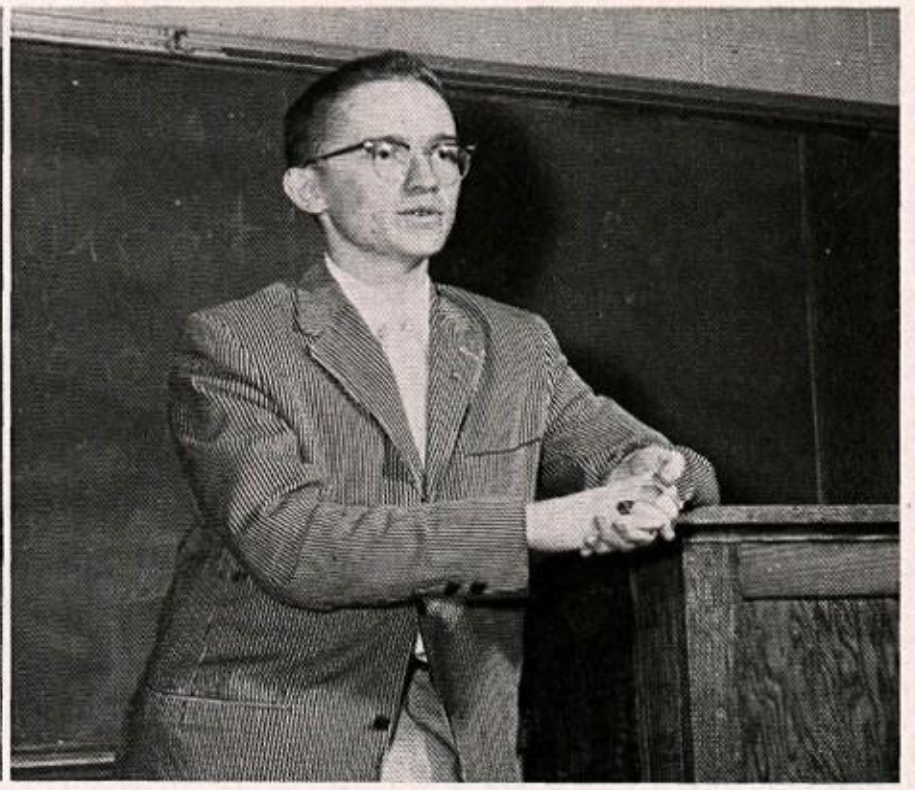
HOLIDAY DECOR

"Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn king."

This message was conveyed to Southport pupils by Christmas decorations prepared by the art department. The angels above, painted by Lonnie Beck, Ray Turner, and Charles Wilson, graced the west hall. Senior-ority was responsible for the beautiful Christmas tree.



Randy Galvin received the Outstanding Achievement Award for his participation in the Purdue Legislature.



For the second year, John Price reminded us of our freedoms in his winning speech in the Voice of Democracy contest.

ABILITY . . .

Our newer and bigger buildings have not only captured a new face for us, but also have inspired us to greater achievements.

Our drum major, Marcia Brittan, was sent to Smith-Walbridge, a drum major training school at Syracuse, Indiana. After a week of drills and instruction, Marcia passed a national test and was awarded the title of Drum Major First Class. Also, nine students from the speech and debate department represented Southport in the Purdue High School Legislature. This two-day meeting was sponsored by the speech department of the university. John Price won the Voice of Democracy contest at Southport with Chris Kleinhenz as runner-up. Their speeches traveled by tape to the state contest.

Drum Major First Class Marcia Brittan shares her title with only twenty other people in the United States.

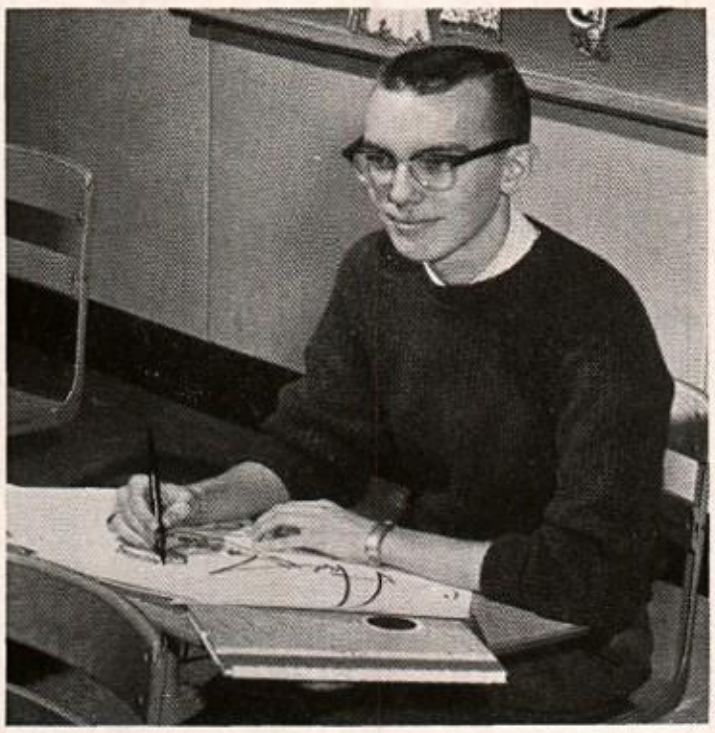
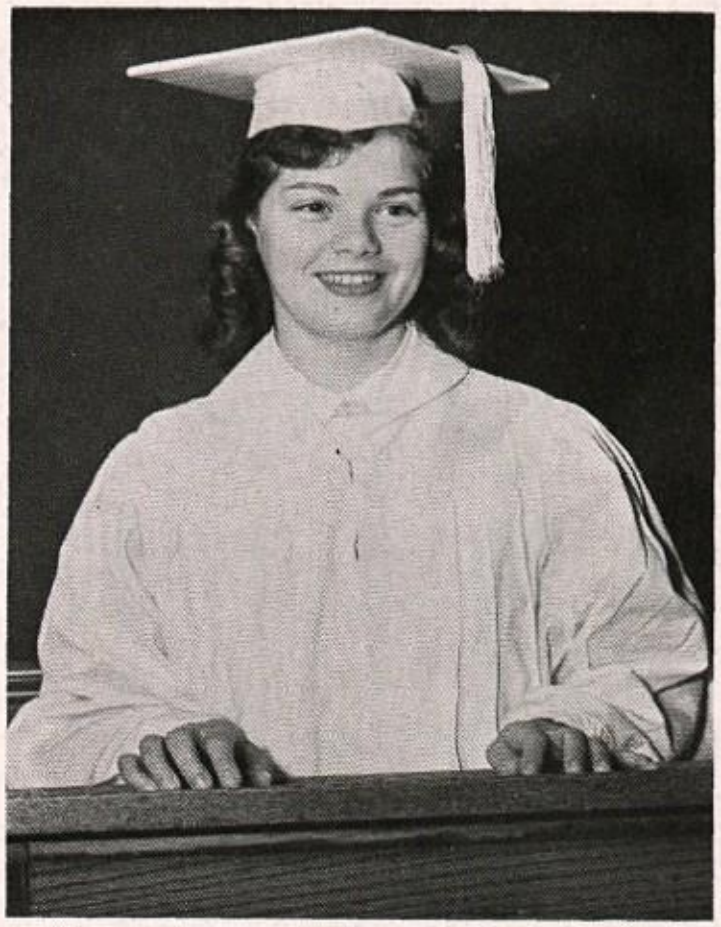
. . . PLUS ACHIEVEMENT



The designer of the 1959 ANCHOR cover was Lonnie Beck, one of Southport's most talented art students.

Lonnie entered six pictures in the National Scholastic Art Awards contest. He, Ray Turner, and Leslie Sponsel were awarded Gold Keys in the regional contest, sponsored by L. S. Ayres and Co. and the TIMES. The keys entitled these students to place their entries in the national competition. Lonnie also won the right to complete for the additional cash award offered by Hallmark Cards.

Highest Honor



The highest honor that a high school can bestow on one of its students is that of valedictorian. Dolores Hogue was chosen for this coveted award, as she maintained the highest scholastic average in the class of 1959. Both "Dee" and her inspiring speech, "An Important Goal in Our School Life," will long be remembered by the school. Her future plans are as yet uncertain, but the class agrees that Dolores will be a success in whatever she undertakes.

. . . EQUAL SUCCESS

Among the many honors bestowed upon Southport students this year, two of the finest came to Judy Culver.

Because of her high scholastic achievement and pleasant personality, Judy was selected by the faculty to be the D.A.R. representative from Southport. Judy also won the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award consisting of a gold pin and an opportunity for a scholarship.

Congratulations are in order for Judy.

An opportunity to sign ANCHORS was one of the privileges granted the student body. Here Betty Huntoon (seated), Betty Miller, Dick McCullough, Nancy Sowden, and Jack Tilson inscribe their "John Henry's" along with "remember when . . ."

As John Q. Studentbody, a Senior at Southport, stands looking out the east door of the new and gigantic fieldhouse, he sees a great phase of Southport's history. Standing in the midst of the "new look" and gazing at the old is a very strange feeling to John because he has been a part of both. As he stands there, deep in thought, John's entire high school career is reflected in his eyes, with an accent on its brevity. The thousand and one todays and tomorrows that were so real have been reduced to a handful of yesterdays to be filed away as memories. Graduation day, which once seemed remote, is now close at hand. So, now, as the rapidity of spring events foretells the coming graduation, John Q. Studentbody stands gazing out the east door of the fieldhouse. He has been one of the first "new look" class, the first of many.

COMMENCEMENT—NOT AN END

BUT A BEGINNING

Another step in the future of these graduating Seniors awaits them as they participate in the Commencement Services, the climax to a wonderful four years.

The New Look . . . in Faces

People, people, everywhere including a new class this year which added a great number to the enrollment of our school in '59
and created a "new look" to the people
seen in the halls of Southport.

Principal

Mr. C. C. Leedy first came to Perry Township as a teacher in 1921. Eight years later he came to Southport, then a school of about 340 pupils and 14 faculty members, as Vice-principal. In 1939, Mr. Leedy became principal. Since that time, Southport has become a First Class Commissioned High School and a member of the North Central Association largely through the efforts of Mr. Leedy and the faculty.

What Mr. Leedy likes best about our new building is the added space for each teacher and, of course, the new gym. The new building enables Mr. Leedy to do better over-all planning and to broaden the curricular offerings. When asked how he likes his position as principal at Southport, Mr. Leedy replied, "This is my life and I thoroughly enjoy it."

Administration and Faculty

Superintendent

Due to the installation of a metropolitan school system in Perry Township, Dr. Edward E. Glenn was selected as the new superintendent of schools.

Dr. Glenn, married and the father of one son, is well qualified for this most responsible position. Receiving his A.B. Degree at Oakland City College in 1932, he later acquired his M.A. Degree in 1935, and his Doctor's Degree in 1955 at Indiana University.

Having served eight and one-half years as a high school principal and mathematics and science teacher and eleven years as Superintendent of Schools of Columbia City, Indiana, Dr. Glenn has found time in his busy schedule for many worth while organizations. Included are the Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, the Chamber of Commerce, and many educational panels and conferences.

Dr. Glenn's outside interests include photography and travel.

Deans of Boys

One of the most influential positions in a school is that of Dean of Boys. At Southport this office is filled by Mr. Walter Kellam and Mr Albert Theil. These men interview seniors relative to graduation, keep attendance records, and do general counseling. In addition to guiding freshmen and sophomore boys, Mr. Theil sponsors the Student Council. Supervising the junior and senior boys is Mr. Kellam. In this, his twentieth year at Southport, Mr. Kellam also sponsored the Booster Club and the girls' cheer block, making it one of the best in the state. Mr. Kellam was on leave of absence during second semester because of illness.

Dean of Girls

One of the most versatile individuals in the administration of Southport is Miss Blanche Penrod, Dean of Girls. Added responsibility was placed upon her this year with the increased enrollment and new surroundings.

Miss Penrod acts as a bond between the girls who need aid and the administration. She is the sponsor of Medicii and Senior-ority. Being chairman of the Easter Sunrise Service, the Christmas program, and the Thanksgiving program adds to Miss Penrod's duties.

Vice-Principal

As Vice-Principal and Athletic Director, Mr. Ratliff has many and varied duties to perform. His supervision includes making contracts for the many athletic events. with the approval of the respective coaches. He also acts as host for the other schools using our new fieldhouse. Mr. Ratliff organizes the Lettermen, who have been of great assistance at our home games. As Vice-Principal and as advisor to the junior and senior boys, he takes care of the attendance records and discipline cases.

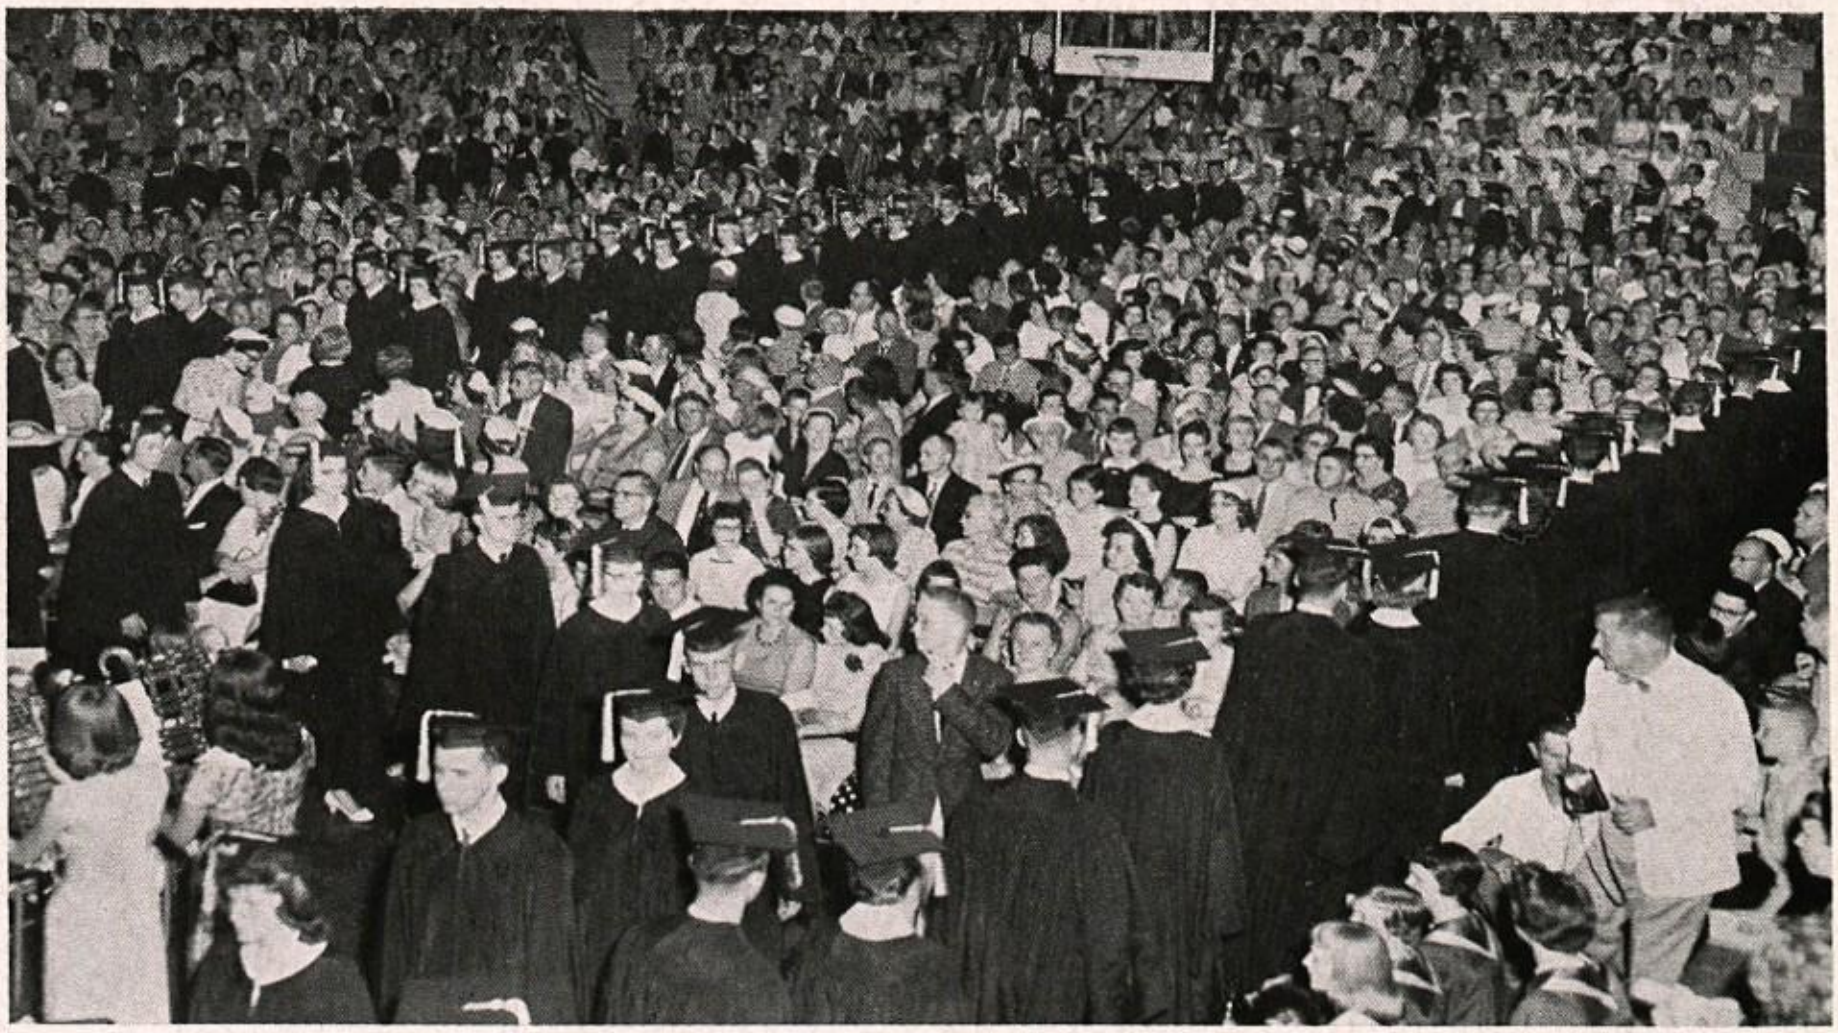
As familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" echo through the gymnasium, the seniors of 1959 proudly take their places in the many fields of opportunity, education, and business offered them.



One More Step

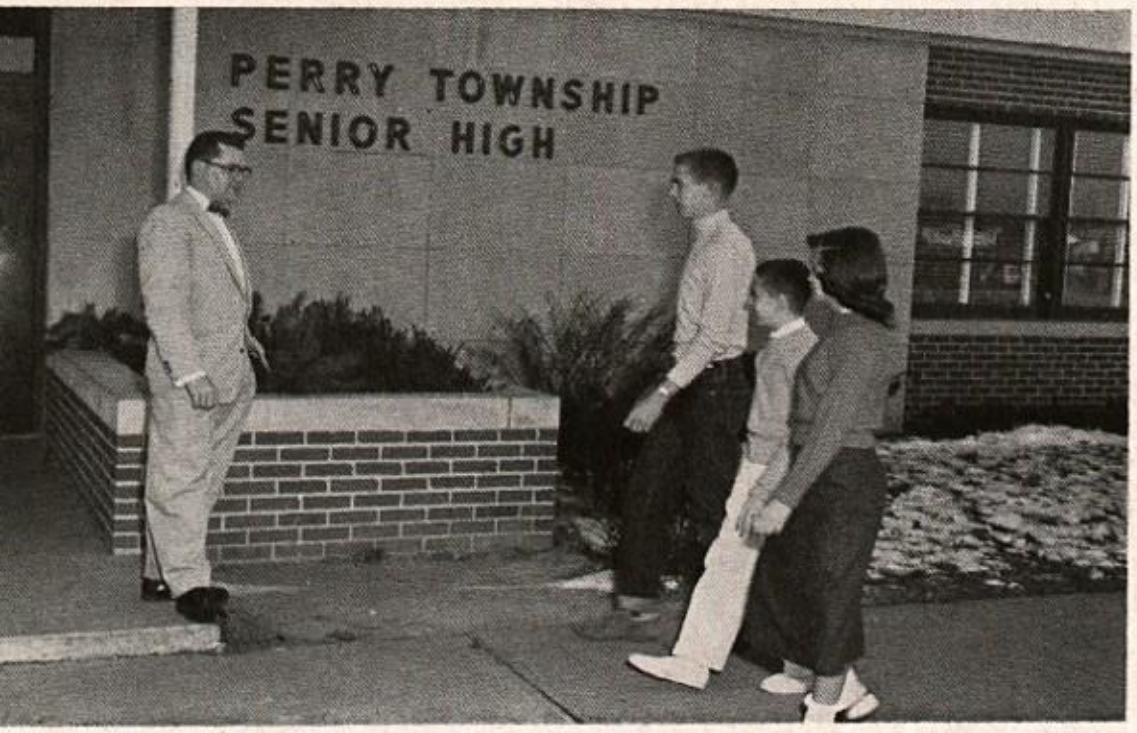
"Size 8½, crossed ruby," exclaims Mrs. Miller, Junior Class sponsor to Secretary-Treasurer, Nancy Jo Dawson; she and President, Steve Fountain, engage in arranging of junior class rings. Assisting them is Vice-President, Tom Gilmore.

Two of the many activities performed by the officers this year were the selling of class rings and the class party. The crowning event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom which was held in our new gymnasium April 17.

Largest Class

The Sophomore class had the distinction of being the largest class ever to enter Southport. With the assistance of Mrs. Eleanor Guyer, sponsor, they chose as their officers John Christoph, President; Ken Redeker, Vice-President; and Beth Witte, Secretary-treasurer.

Included in their activities this year was making a float for the homecoming parade. The float portrayed a triumphant Cardinal standing over a defeated Bulldog. John Price served as the disc jockey at their class party held in March. Bill Vogel and his Beatniks and John Christoph's combo provided the entertainment.



New Addition

Representing the Freshman Class, were President Kenny Nierman; Vice-President, David Woerner; and Secretary-treasurer, Sharon Ford, greeting Mr. Brown, their sponsor, on their first day in high school. They have now made their first step into the realm of the Senior High.

The New Look

. . . in Activities

Pleasureful pastimes

in social, scientific, and physical activities

keep the Southport students on their toes

and up to par

in service to their school and all people,

creating a "new look"

and adding a new cast of characters to a familiar setting.

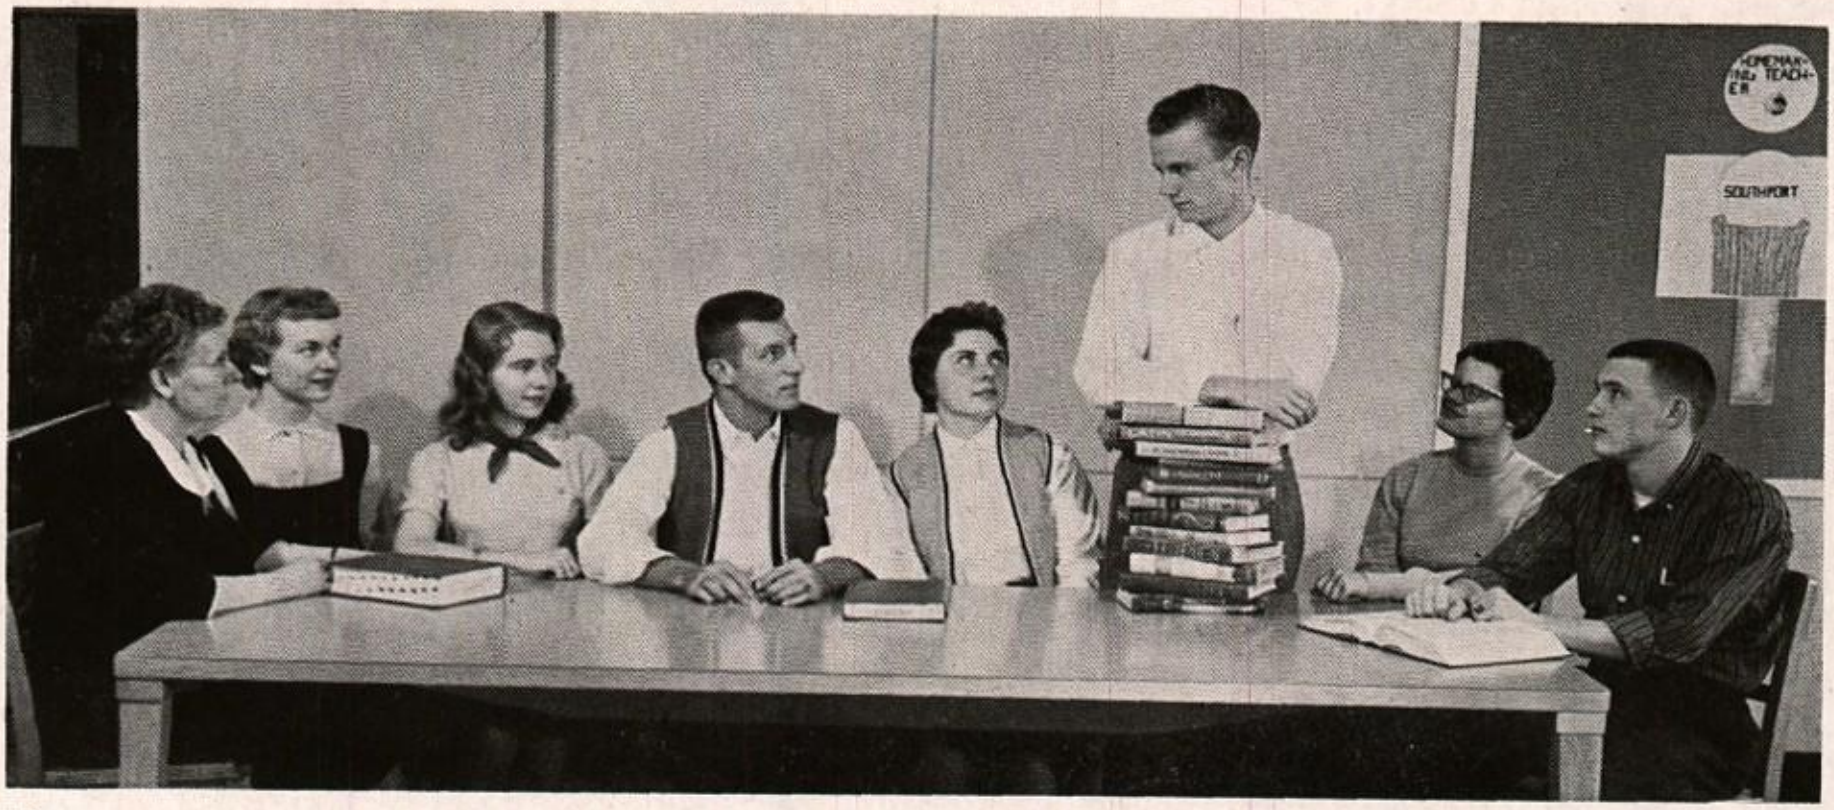
The Student Council, the student-govening body of Southport High School, consists of a representative from each home room, the Booster Club president, and the president of each class. To be a member of this organization is considered a high honor by all the students.

One project that the club undertakes is the annual magazine drive. This year the profit was used for portable stage equipment.

Until this year the Council had been under the guidance of Mr. Leedy; but because of his added responsibilities, the sponsorship was given to Mr. Albert Theil. Officers were Jerry Dennerline, President; Dick McCullough, Vice-President; and Cecilia Rice, Secretary.

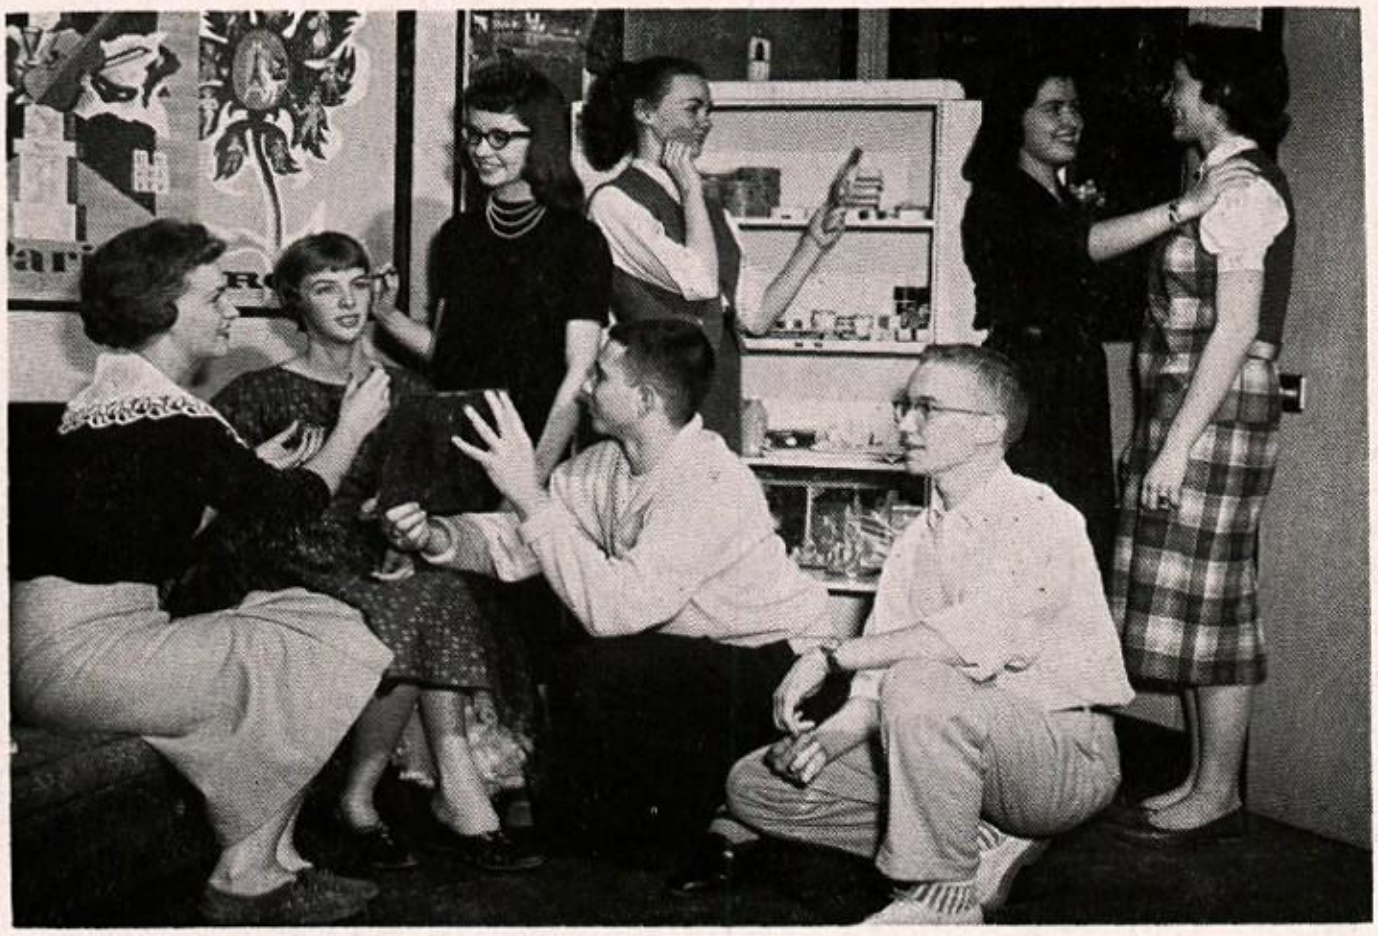
REWARD OF A

Each year at Southport approximately thirty junior and senior students are inducted into the National Honor Society. High scholastic standing is only one of the qualifications, for personality and activity ratings hold equal importance. Eight seniors were granted membership last year. They are Judy Darnell, Elaine Blum, Marcia Brittan, Bill Brandenburg, Dick McCullough, Tom Brewer, Valerie Salge, and Donna Mahan (not pictured). The sponsor of this honor association is Miss Helen Chandler.



Quill and Scroll is comprised of the following students who were chosen from the upper one-third of the class for their ability to write for the yearbook and the school paper. They are: Row 1: Peggy Cowden, Velda Elston, Wilma Bockes, Linda Langley, Judy McBride, Donna Mahan, JoAnn Schisla, Donna Barkhaus, Dolores Hogue, Nina Jo Dean. Row 2: Mary Compton, Betty Huntoon, Helen Hardegan, Marilyn Krohne, Janet Dudley, Kathy Nichols, Phyllis Wycoff, Marlene Wegehoft. Standing: Roberta Boggs, Mrs. Barr, Nancy Niederauer, Marilyn Kottkamp, Kenny Otto, Tom Brewer, Phil Farber, Monty Siekerman, Richard Cohron, Mark Nuttall, John Price, Harry Bostic, Nancy Sowden, Elaine Albers, Sandra Bertel, Mrs. Majors.

JOB WELL DONE



Thespian members are accustomed to changing their faces through the use of make-up for various productions. In the picture they appear in the process of making some of their dramatic changes, using their newly purchased cabinets.

Our organization is affiliated with the national Thespians which is composed of dramatics students and advocates. To become a member the Thespian must have earned ten points participating in the junior or senior play or in activities pertaining to dramatics.

Initiation banquets are held each semester for new members. The only officer of Thespians is the secretary, Judy Culver. Mr. Thomas Brethauer sponsors the organization.

Doing as the Romans Did

Visions of lustrous columns, formal gardens, and quiet pools are pictured in the minds of the members of the Advanced Latin Club as they enact the roles of ancient Romans.

Complete with togas, the members participated fuily in broadening their knowledge of the days of Caesar. A contest for the best toga, a Roman banquet, and the initiation of the Beginning Latin Club were the main events on the schedule. Also, the reading of myths and games, including tick-tack-too, Latin bingo, and derivations helped fill the agenda.

Heading the club this year were Mark Braford, Consul; Lonnie Beck, Pro-Consul; Donna Barkaus, Quaestor; and June Krug, Aedile. Mrs. Elsa Majors is sponsor.

"It's Greek To Me"

"What an awkward way to do homework! exclaims Jim Allen, Consul of the Beginning Latin Club as he and Sue Schuster, Pro Consul, study a replica of an ancient Roman scroll. Listening intently are Trudy Hickman; Quaestor; and Larry Graham, Aedile.

The studying of scrolls, fashions, and customs was only a small part of the schedule of the club this year. Games, along with the initiation of its members by the Advanced Latin Club, filled the remaining programs. With the excellent aid of Mrs. Elsa Majors, sponsor, the members can look back on this year as being very Roman.

Los Extrangeros

"Ready? Now, no peeking!" exclaims Richard McCullough, President, to Delores Hogue, Vice-President, as she and the other members of the Spanish Club prepare to enact one of the most joyous events of our Latin American neighbors, the breaking of the Pinata. Assisting is Julian Quack, Secretary-Treasurer.

With the leadership of Mrs. Gladys Fisher, the sponsor of Los Extranjeros, the members have broadened their knowledge of our Spanish-speaking friends through various activities. Included were an assortment of games —bingo and rhyme, and the annual Spanish party. Another event this year was the ordering and selling of Spanish pins which added that special touch to a very exciting year.

"Say Aahh!"

Lloyd Tucker, President; Sherry Treon, Vice-president; Deanna Bailey, Secretary; and Donna Mahan, Treasurer; under the excellent supervision of Miss Blanche Penrod, combined to make Medicii one of the popular clubs at Southport. It opened its membership to those who were interested in a medical vocation and who maintained a "B" average.

The highlight activity in this club was the annual field trip which, this year, was a visit to the Eli Lilly Company where the students were given a review of the progress of medical advancement.

A Stitch In Time

Having been newly organized for the first time this year, the Future Home Builders of America has certainly taken its place on the roll call of clubs. It's creed, "To build better homes for America's future," gave the members many opportunities to promote campaigns for good eating and for good harmony in the home

Their meetings included a panel of ministers who spoke about marriage and religion in the home. Other meetings were devoted to planning a field trip to Chicago where they intend to visit places of interest and pleasure.

The officers for this year were Donna Mahan, president; Kay Saxton, vice-president; Sally Steffy, secretary-treasurer, and Joan Knapp, parliamentarian.

Service to Others

The Junior Red Cross, with one representative from each home room had a membership of fifty this year. For the holiday season the members filled Christmas stockings for children in hospitals and collected donations for the Red Cross Chapter; however, their main project was making party boxes for the Veteran's Hospital.

Officers were Bob Gilmore, President; Ronnie Alexander, Vice-President, and Mary Reinacker, Secretary-Treasurer. Jonnie Schmitt and Ronnie Scalf were this year's delegates to the Red Cross County Board.

Junior Statesmen

One of the most active and popular clubs at Southport is Hi-Y. The "new look" certainly was extended to Hi-Y because, with the addition of the freshmen, the enrollment of the club was boosted to considerably over a hundred. Founded on Christian principles, and under the sponsorship of the world wide Y.M.C.A. world service program, this club makes contributions to school and community, and prepares its members for life after graduation. The club's main undertaking is the Model United Nations which is an annual project of all Indianapolis and Marion County High Schools. John Price was president of the Model U.N. General Assembly. Southport also placed several officers on the General Committee and was well represented by many delegates.

A Link in the Chain

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y is open to all junior and senior girls. The purpose of the club is "To create, maintain, and extend throughout school, home and community, high standards of Christian living."

The association of the Tri-Hi-Y with Hi-Y is a member of the national and Indiana Hi-Y Fellowship.

Heading the club's activities is its participation in the Model U.N., the Teen Canteen, and the selling of candy.

This year's officers were Betty Huntoon, President; Beverly Krohne, Vice-President; Cecilia Rice, Secretary; Nancy Jo Dawson, Treasurer; Pat Tapscott, Chaplain and Artith Bright, Historian. Mrs. Gladys Fisher was the club's sponsor.

Saving Pennies

Junior Tri-Hi-Y members save their pennies for World Service. By selling YMCA candy they contribute to helping the underprivileged children around the world. Another of their projects is the Model United Nations held in Indianapolis each spring. Several representatives are sent to the YMCA Teen Council.

Requirements to be a member are the same as those for a Senior Tri-Hi-Y member since this club is a similar organization, but membership is limited to freshmen and sophomores.

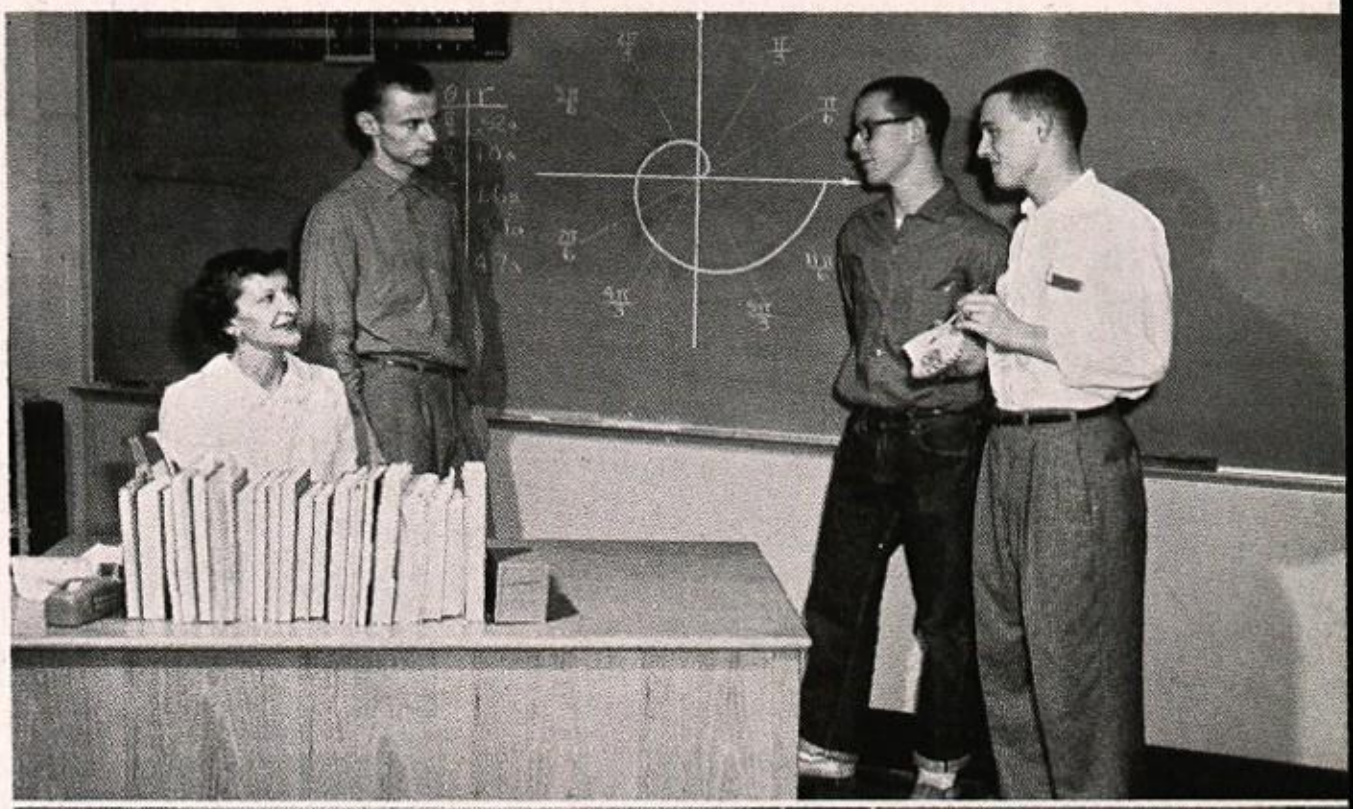
"What kind of spiral?"

Is it symmetrical with respect to the axis or origin? What are the intercepts and excluded values? These are a few of the problems that Math club officers and sponsor are discussing.

This club, "Euclideans," is for juniors and seniors interested in mathematics who are enrolled in, or have taken, advanced math courses. To become a member, the student must pass an entrance examination or submit an acceptable theme or mathematical project. Monthly meetings and field trips are planned by the students.

Mrs. Guyer is seated at the desk, and standing left to right are Bill Brandenburg, president, Bill Amt, vice-president, and Tom Brewer, secretary-treasurer.



"Testing, Testing"

Under the able assistance of Mr. Arthur Key, the Radio Club is helping its members learn more about electronics and the radio field. The ultimate aim of this new club is to establish a radio station at Southport. Besides regular meetings at school, evening sessions are also held. One of the highlights of the year was a field trip to a nearby radio station.

The officers of the club are Steve John, President; Dennis Powell, Vice-President; John Doty, Secretary; and John Talley, Treasurer.

"Smile for the Birdie"

The forty members of this newly organized club not only take pictures but also develop them. One of the many aims of this club is to teach students the fundamentals of making better pictures.

Through this club, it is hoped that the students may develop an interest in a stimulating hobby as well as a creative career.

When these pictures were taken, the ANCHOR staff was hard at work collecting material, writing and editing copy, and discussing the 1959 ANCHOR. As the school year wore on, the chattering of people, the click-clacking of the typewriters, the work, the fun, the trials, the triumphs, the dances, the games —in short, the pageant of another year and another graduating class was being blended and indelibly recorded in this book. We hope that you, the graduating Seniors, the underclassmen, indeed the whole student body will be able to leaf through these pages and hear, see, and relive these events, which, in a few short years, will be only memories. The ANCHOR salutes its graduating Seniors, its sponsor, Mrs. Majors, and the underclassmen, who helped make the ANCHOR what it is.

Each member of the Anchor Sales Staff, after selling his minimum quota of ten dollars, strives to win the grand prize. This year, Carolyn Fewell, Sharon Spurling, and JoAnn Schisla received the awards of cabinets of stationery for having sold the most stationery. The members who sold ten or more dollars worth were: Penny Brehob, Bernadette Baldus, Carolyn Beaver, Linda Craft, Judy Daringer, Marcia Floyd, Dennis Hoefgen, Pam Meyers, Cynthia Langdon, Suetta Kehrein, Lavon Rush, Betty Miller, Bill Hutchison, Sandra Hedges, Betty Stevens, Sue Ryker, Sue Ellen Schuster, Diane Ferrell, and Nancy Stacey.

The Southport Journal

Adding to the theme of the year book, "The New Look," was the school's newspaper. After being called "The Perry News" for thirty-six years, the name was changed to "The Southport Journal."

In beginning journalism classes, the students learn the fundamentals for becoming a good journalist; they edit the final issue of the year.

The students in the second year classes are given staff positions and are assigned specific jobs. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Barr, the journalism teacher, the paper is published fifteen times throughout the year.

Members of the 1959 Signpost Staff were Bob Williams, Cecilia Rice, Kay Saxton, Wade Davis, editor, and Mary Alice Showalter.

In the Journalism room, 229, the "Journal's" page editors are found planning the layouts for each page. This duty rests on Helen Hardegan, Betty Huntoon, Donna Emmons, Mark Nuttall, and Hank Janes.

Judy Culver and Judy McBride are the "Journal's" news-business co-editors; Edith Schnier, business manager, and Sandy George, exchange editor, deal mainly with the public relations of the school's paper.

Deadlines must be met and these are some of the people who must meet them. They are Donna Mahan, Marty Speicher, Marilyn Carmichael, Kenny Otto, and Tom Derr.

"Stop! Look! and Listen!"

"The life you save may be your own," is a slogan heard everywhere and especially stressed by the members of the Traffic Club. Under the leadership of Mr. Linson, the members of this organization have truly rendered a service to each and every one of us during our school year.

The managing of traffic at football and basketball games, including the County Tournament and the Sectional games, filled a very busy schedule for the club this year.

"X= Distance Between . . ."

For those students who are very much interested in math, there are two clubs—beginning and advanced.

The beginning math club is for those students who have had math as high as plane geometry.

When the club met, their program usually consisted of a speaker who gave the club members a preview of the higher math courses and gave them a few examples of problems which they might work while taking the higher math courses. A member of the advanced club was sometimes the speaker.

The sponsor of the club was Mr. Glen Stuckey. The officers of this year's beginning club were David Frick, President; Carol Grube, Vice-President; Vicki Davis, Secretary; and Tam Merrick, Treasurer.

"Do It Yourself!"

"Early to bed, early to rise," is a saying not taken lightly by the members of the Future Farmers of America. With visions of a partnership with nature these ambitious boys have started early in their understanding of the science of farming.

Under the guidance of Mr. Earl McCormick, the members have increased their knowledge of farming through field trips to various farms and through sending representatives to different conventions. One of the more entertaining events of the year was the Father-Son Banquet held this spring.

The officers were President, Charles Rosebrock; Vice-President, Julius Albaugh; Secretary, Bill Mann; Treasurer, Robert Koester; Reporter, Gary Mize; Sentinel, Dave Cox.

Senior-ority

This year Southport High School was very attractively decorated for each season and holiday of the school year by the Senior-ority girls. Beautiful Christmas decorations for the holiday and lovely pink blossoms denoting the coming of spring were placed in the halls and cafeteria.

The girls, who must be juniors or seniors and sell two cans of mixed nuts in order to be a member, enjoy working with their sponsor, Miss Blanche Penrod.

The officers for 1958-59 were as follows: Edith Schnier, president; Madelyn Enders, vice-president: and Marlene Wegehoft, secretary-treasurer.

An Apple for the Teacher

To teach or not to teach is the important question that the Future Teachers Club endeavors to help its members decide.

Mrs. Jessie Copsey sponsors the group headed by Elaine Blum, president; Carol Alvord, vice-president; Judy Darnell, secretary; Sue Thompson, treasurer; and Nancy Sowden, program chairman.

The club offers to its members cadet teaching opportunities, field trips, interesting programs and other projects.

The fifty girls and twenty boys in the club surprised the faculty one report card day, for each teacher found an apple, complete with ribbons and verse in his mail box.

Zero Zero Service!

Science in Action

In this picture the club members examine some new Geiger counters along with instruction booklets and information on radiation and radioactivity which were sent to the club by the Civilian Defense. The members of the Phy-Chem club must have had or must be taking either physics or chemistry and maintain a "B" average in that subject.

The senior members, as they appear here are: (seated) Janet Pittman, Jo Ann Schisla, Steve John, Bill Brandenburg, Richard McCullough. Those standing are: Judy Culver, secretary-treasurer, Bill Amt, president, John Price, Tom Brewer, and the club sponsor, Mr. Robins.

Bugs or Insects?

"My stomach is larger than yours." This is a typical cry as the Biology Club student dissects a frog. This is only one project of their club work, for they also worked on the flowerbeds in front of the school. They applied the proceeds from the soc-hop for curtains for the biology room so that movies may be shown there. A trip to Chicago's museum and a jaunt to Turkey Run were the highlights of their program.

The officers for this year are Carole Grube, Christine Burkhart, Joe Burke, and Sue Wasson. The sponsor is Mr. Hagedon.

"It's THAT Long!"

For those boys who enjoy hunting, fishing, and iust being together, the Outdoor Life Club was established. After the boys are taught how to handle guns properly, they are taken on fox hunts and fishing trips.

Each year the club goes on a trip, this year to Wyandotte Cave. They are also taught much about conservation.

Mr. Bert Haviland is the sponsor of the club and the officers were President, Tim Bertram; Vice President, Chuck Wetzel; and Secretary-Treasurer, John Deever.

Junior Executives

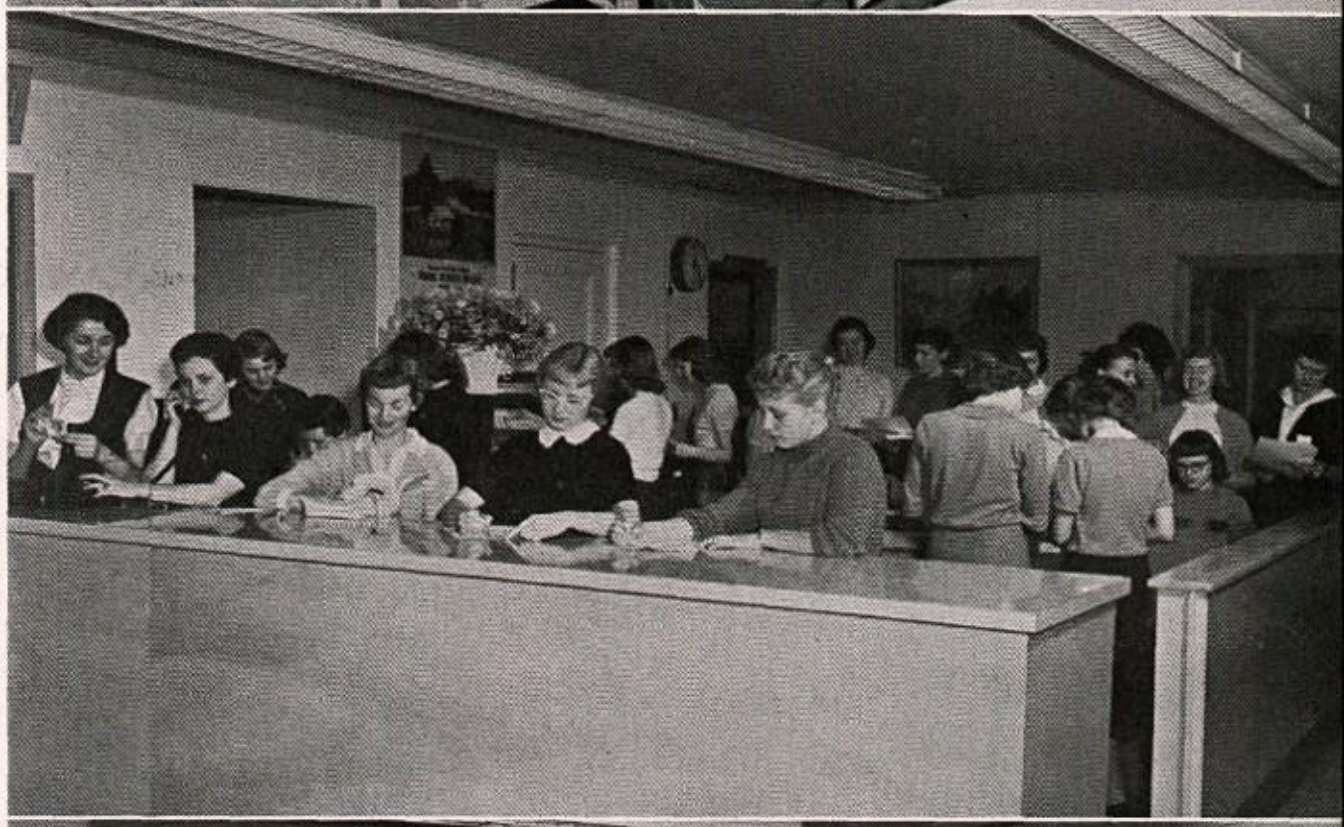
Future Business Leaders of America has two purposes—to promote leadership among high school pupils and to make a better educational department.

During the past three years F.B.L.A. has operated a check room at the basketball games; this year they extended their sevices to sectional and county tourney. Other activities of F.B.L.A. are taking field trips in the spring and attending the convention at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana.

This year Mr. Elwood Miller had a co-sponsor, Mrs. Mary Shambaugh. The clubs' officers were President, Anne Wortman; Vice President, Diane Eskew; Secretary, Elaine Albers; Treasurer, Donna Saunders; and Sharon Todd, Recorder.

"Good Morning, Southport High School"

New things here too! More phones, more teachers, and more students made the duties of the office girl a little more complicated than heretofore. In addition to doing general office tasks, these girls also assemble the absentee lists, file papers, and do typing and duplicating for teachers and officials of the school. The only requisite for this post is one year of typing. All office work is done under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Stevens.



"Correction Tape, Anybody?"

"The teacher's girl Friday" is a term that might be appropriately applied to the teachers' secretaries. These girls do everything from typing, duplicating, and stapling tests to scoring papers, recording grades, and running errands. This year the secretaries were quite fortunate in that they were able to work in the new, better equipped office.

All secretaries must have completed at least one year of typing and have maintained a C average. Most of them are commercial majors who wish to gain practical experience in this type of work. They are under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Stevens, school secretary.

Eastern Indiana Marching Band Champions; First Division Rating in the Indiana School of Music Association Marching Band contest; twelfth of ninety-one bands in the State Fair contest. These are only a small number of the contests and performances given by our band this year.

The Marching Cardinals were directed by Bill Schmalfelft and led by a drum majorette, six strutting majorettes and a flag corps of thirty girls. The band took part in all school functions and performed with Butler's band at the Hoosier Classics. They participated in the state Lions Club convention at South Bend, the Spring Festival, and marched at the opening of the Madison Avenue Expressway. The band was invited to appear at the Zionsville Festival and they were the official band at the Soap Box Derby in Indianapolis.

They assisted the Pep Club in making a record which was sponsored by the P.-T. A. and to earn money for instruments and supplies, the members sold candy.

The majorettes twirled at half-time shows during Basketball season and entered the distict and state solo and ensemble contests.

In addition to the Choir, several small groups performed during the year. Among these were the Boy's Octet and the Girl's Sextet. Those in the octet were Steve Howard, Jim Unversaw, Garry Reed, John Winkler, Ross Caywood, Allan Cochran, Charles Cauble, and Tom Williams. Their accompanist was Betty Huntoon. Those in the sextet were Jean Wagner, Judy Darnell, Rhonda Taylor, Betty Huntoon, Judy Marshke, and Nancy Linkel. Their accompanist was Tom Williams.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT GAINS

"Right face, right face; one, two, three. Forward, march!" Who said that summertime meant vacation?! This thought occurred to many girls in Southport's new flag corps, the marching Cardinalettes. They were organized only last spring under the direction of Bill E. Schmalfeldt, head of the music department, and spent many hours during the summer in preparation for fall and winter school activities.

MANY HONORS IN '59

In a short span of time the Cardinalettes made a good name for themselves. They were an added attraction to the band shows during the football season, and they marched both before the band at Zionsville and at the Lions Club Convention at South Bend. The Cardinalettes provided entertainment for several basketball half-time shows.

The string section is composed of (1) B. Harris, M. Thomas, L. Williams, H. Williams. (2) J. Wiggins, J. Wiggins, L. Sponsel S. Childers, W. Mills, G. Sanders, S. Klatte, N. Smith. (3) S. Githens, M. Reinacker, P. Morrison, C. Stevenson, J. Utterback, J. Fowler, M. Baftin, J. Fagin, J. Coombs, M. Zelmer.

Under the direction of Bill E. Schmalfeldt the orchestra performed at a number of activities. Some of the major activities were playing at the Senior Play, special convocations at the grade schools, a program for the Dad's Club, and playing at the Baccalaureate services before graduation. In the spring, they played host to the mid-state music festival.

The full orchestra is composed of special members of the concert band and the string section.

This year, as last year, Mary Reinacker and Becky Harris served as our color guard. The girls, along with the majorettes, presented the flag at all home football and basketball games.

Singing Cardinals

An organization Southport is proud to call its own is the choir. Southport's singing Cardinals work long and hard. Choir practice takes a full period every day and many rehearsals are scheduled after school hours. Mr. Schmalfeldt and the choir appear in many performances throughout the year, including convocations, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Baccalaureate, and Commencement Services, and the Easter Sunrise Pageant. They also participate in the County Choral Festival and the State choir contest. The Choir brings honor to Southport by being the mother organization for several assorted vocal ensembles and many entrants in the Solo and ensemble contest. Interested underclassmen should take vocal music in one of the beginning classes or consult Mr. Schmalfeldt for advice.

The Spring Music Festival set the scene for the annual awards of the music department. Each student must be in an advance music class two years to receive a letter. Here Mr. Schmalfeldt presents the awards to the students who have earned them.

Members of the choir were: (1) J. Darnell, Mr. Schmalfeldt, Director, D. Easley, R. Caywood, J. Unversaw, A. Cochran, F. Meister, F. Ashby, T. Williams, C. Cauble, G. Reed, J. Winkler, R. Hanks, P. Quiet, Please!

The thirty members of the Library Club sort and mend books, help students select books of their choice, and check books in and out of the library.

The club also has interesting extra-curricular activities. Last fall several members attended the state conference of B.O.O.K. at Indiana State Teachers College, and they also visited the Powerama exhibit at Allisons.

Mrs. Alice Black and Mrs. Orpha Morwick, the sponsors, agree that the most important objective of the club is to interest students in library work as a life career. Aiding the sponsors are Linda Preddy, President; Kathy Kastner, Vice-President; and Jeanne Krodel, Secretary-Treasurer.

"Check Mate"

The name of "Royal Knights" was given to Southport's new and improved Chess Club, which is devoted to promoting interest in the game and promises to take on all challengers. There was a tournament which was drawing to a close as the "Anchor" went to press, but the results were not available. The Chess Club looks forward to the time when it will have equipment and facilities to play against other schools and bring the game of chess into greater prominence. This year's officers were: Randy Galvin, President; Steve Howard, Vice-President; and Stuart Ernhart, Secretary-Treasurer.

Sprocket Jockeys

The Sprocket Jockeys' Club, which is made up of boys and girls who run the motion picture projectors, became part of the "new look" when they were presented with a room of their own in which they could show their films to the classes. These films are informative and help to illustrate problems which might otherwise be difficult to explain. The club also has a new sponsor, Mr. Ralph Brown.

The '59 Sprocket Jockeys' is run by President David Kafader, and the club's other officers, Klaus Heise, Vice-President; and Carolyn Reeves, Secretary-Treasurer.

Sink or Swim!

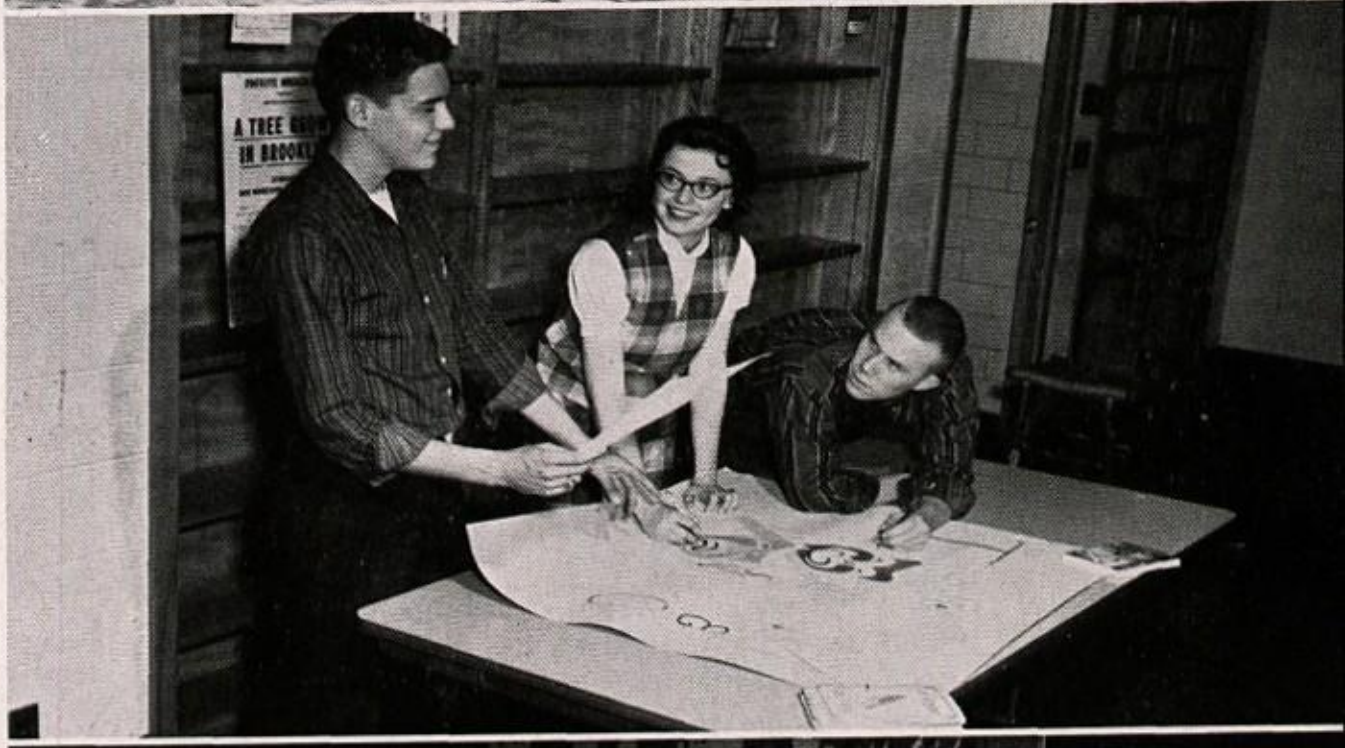
The "new look" was further enhanced by the new swimming pool which provides many hours of pleasure and relaxation for the girls' synchronized swimming team, newly organized this year. The girls call themselves the Southport "Dolphinetts."

Each Tuesday night strange sounds echoed from the general direction of the swimming pool—"Ready, Kip, tub, swish, shark!" Inside one might have seen the members of the team in swimming formation ready to begin their routine. Officers for 1959 were: President, Joan Peay; Vice-President, Jane Tegeler; Secretary, June Krug; and Treasurer, Jane Lohman. Working under the leadership and direction of Miss Barbara Burris, they make the club both interesting and educational.

Mask and Gavel

Students taking public speaking, salesmanship and debate, and dramatics may join Mask and Gavel. It is affiliated with the national organization of Mask and Gavel and Thespians. Membership in the club increases interest and experience of the students in the fields of speech and dramatics.

During the year, members of Mask and Gavel participated in the Voice of Democracy Contest and the Purdue Legislature. Officers were Jerry Dennerline, President; Joe Hobbs, Vice-President; and Judy Culver, Secretary-Treasurer.



G. A. A.

Events eagerly awaited throughout the year were the Sweater Swirl in October, the Turn-About in March, and the May Dance at which the outstanding spring athletes received their awards.

With the addition of the new swimming pool, swimming lessons were given to G.A.A. girls desiring to learn to swim. For other sports activities, the girls played in an intramural volleyball tournament.

The officers were Marcia Brittan, President; Zelma Stevens, Vice-President; Myra Graves, Secretary; and Linda Langley, Treasurer. Mrs. Miller was the club's sponsor.

The New Look

. . . in Sports

Included in our "new look" of '59 are physical and mental strength and ability

plus great versatility

in all sports

which keep our boys "on top"

to win great honors for Southport.

The Booster Club backed our victorious teams this year with a membership of over 1300.

In addition to sponsoring pep sessions, this group encouraged attendance at ball games by announcements, stunts, and novel signs.

The club's officers, Steve Gavin, vice-president; John Price, president; and Pat Tapscott, secertary-treasurer, were supervised by Mr. Walter Kellam.

'59 SPIRIT BOOSTED VICTORIES

"Southport cards, they're the best; they can pass most any test." This was one of our many new yells composed to the tunes of popular songs and led by our varsity cheer leaders. The girls, in their white sweaters and red skirts, added more sparkle and color to the games.

In order to have more school support at games away from home it was arranged that busses take girls in the Pep Club to and from the games.

For having served two years on the varsity squad, Nancy Black received a letter sweater.

The '59 varsity cheer leaders were Nancy Black, Carolyn Goodnight, Margie Bockes, Vivian Beal, and Jayne Tegeler.

The '59 Lettermen are B. Gilmore, K. Miller, M. Owen, M. Epler, T. Brewer, J. Reese, S. Briner. (2) J. Whitlock, J. Hobbs, D. Wayman, J. Coulter, Athletic Director, Mr. Ratliff, J. Beal, B. Seidner, J. Bruhn, D. Fountain. (3) T. Gilmore, J. Green, S. Christ, D. Hart, B. Helms, G. Taylor, J. Albright. T. Short, B. Duncan, J. Lohman. (4) D. Van Meter, L. Copeland, J. Vance, S. Martin, J. Reserve Cheerleaders

"All set! You bet!" Our reserve cheer leaders backed both the reserve and freshman teams this year, and helped the varsity cheer leaders line all the girls up in the right color of capes. With the closing of the reserve game, Southport fans heard the pep club yelling, "Where, oh, where is our team, down in the dressing room picking up steam."

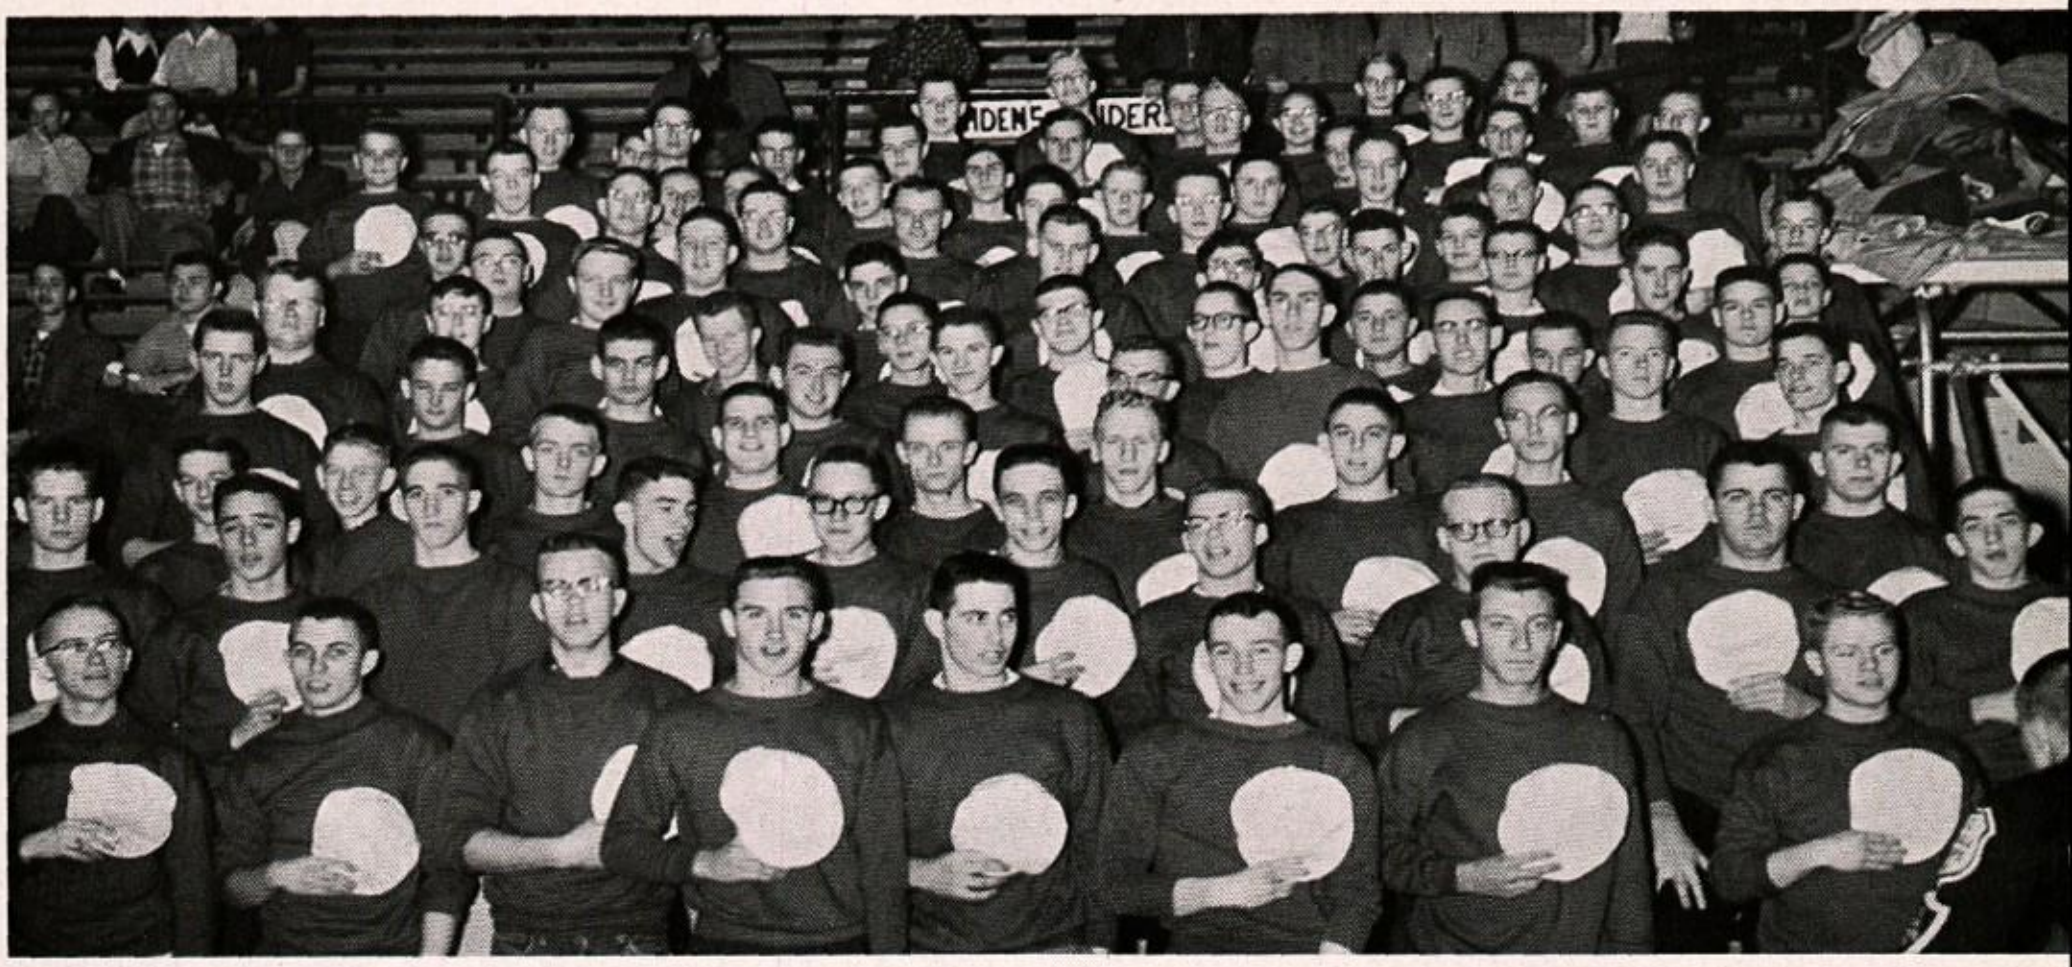
Our 1959 Reserve Cheerleaders were Juliann Quack, Beth Witte, and David Woerner.

Performing at ball games and leading the band this year were our majorettes, Sharon Tilford, Marsha Noffke, Donna Emmons, Helen Williams, Jane Coombs, Sharon Todd, and head majorette, Marcia Brittan.

450 Screaming Lovelies

Contributing much to the spirit of the basketball team was the Girl's Pep Club. This cheer section was one of the most highly organized of its kind in the state. In addition to the red and white reversible capes and red and white gloves, the girls had many new songs and chants which added greatly to the color and excitement of the games.

Mr. Kellam has been the sponsor of the pep club in the past; however, Mr. Schmalfeldt took over the second semester.

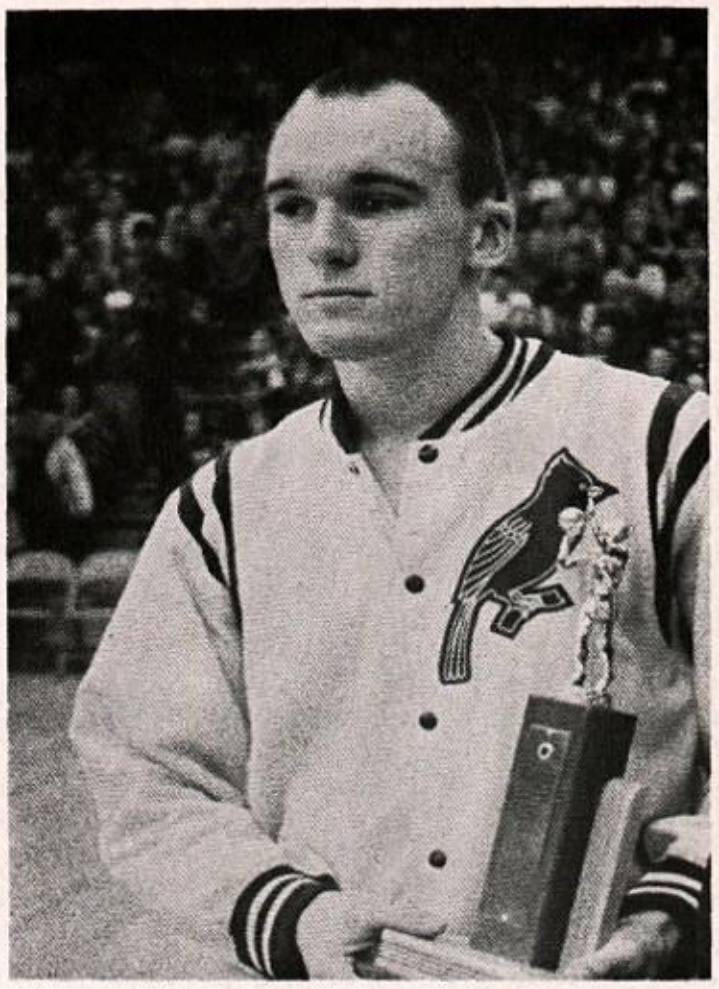


Braden's Raiders

Braden's Raiders was a popular organization at S.H.S. this year. In their white ivy league hats and red sweat shirts, the boys were present to back our team at all home games, the County Tourney, the Sectional, and the Regional.

Backed by hard work and much practice, the boys demonstrated, for all to see, that school spirit extended beyond the fair sex. Their clever maneuvers included rising reverently, with their hats held over their hearts for every Cardinal free throw.

The new club was under the direction of Jack Morgan, sponsor, and seniors Dick McCullough, Jon Hittle, and Ray Kappmeyer.



Morris Epler, Senior, recently received a good sportsmanship award for his outstanding playing ability and mental attitude in the County Tourney. This award was given by the West Side Exchange Club of Indianapolis. Through the season, "Morrie" has proven to be an outstanding player on the hardwood.

Gridiron Champs

Our football team finished with an overall record of eight wins and two losses this year, capturing the County and the South Central Conference championships. Their success lay in an unusually well-balanced attack. This was evidenced by Southport's placing five players —Joe Beal, Tom Brewer, Chuck Wetzel, Bob Ashman, and Bob Seidner—on the all-conference team. Beal, Brewer, and Wetzel also made all-county. An additional honor was given this year at Southport. Line and backfield man-of-the-year trophies were awarded to Beal and Brewer, respectively. Bob Seidner broke the South Central Conference record for yards gained per carry. He averaged 8.2 yards.

In this game against Columbus, Bob Seidner drives over for a touchdown. This was typical for Bob who showed great running ability all season. Watching is Jerry Whitlock (43), Jeff Coulter (39), Tom Brewer (10), and Stan Martin (17).

COP CONFERENCE AND COUNTY

Joe Hobbs runs for two gains in the county playoff game against Lawrence Central. Joe was one of the fastest runners on the team and made many gains throughout the season.

The loss of Southport's baseball and assistant football coach, Mr. William Fredenberger, saddened not only the hearts of students, but faculty alike; we will remember the many games he coached and good advice he imparted to all.

Having taught physical education, health, and safety at Southport for eleven years, he became our track coach in 1955 and baseball coach in 1957. Spring intramurals always found him, baseball in one hand and glove in the other, teaching someone just how to "pitch that ball" or how to "grip that bat." All this and much more will keep alive the memory of Mr. Fredenberger, an all-round coach.

County Champs

Another first was added to the trophy case of Southport High School this year — the 1958 Marion County Football Championship trophy.

This being the first year for such an award, our team under the excellent coaching of Mr. Jack Morgan, defeated Lawrence Central High School in the championship game with a score of 26 to 14.

Receiving the trophy from Mr. Shyrl Craig (center) are Mr. Morgan (right) and Mr. C. C. Leedy, Principal.

Roundball, The Season

Southport's Hardwood Hustlers racked up a fine season marked by upsets over defending State Champs, Fort Wayne South, Indianapolis Tech, Rushville, and finally by two defeats over a tough Manual team that was ranked sixth in the state. Although most unsuccessful in conference play, Braden juggled the redbird lineup and entered a team in the county tourney that was second to none by actual test. Southport's defeating Ben Davis served as a grim fore-shadowing to Manual of things to come, for earlier in the season Ben Davis had battled Manual to a double overtime and sudden death situation before succumbing. The south side rivalry of blood reached a peak when a sell-out crowd saw the High-flying Cards humble Manual 55-51 and shake up its sectional hopes considerably.

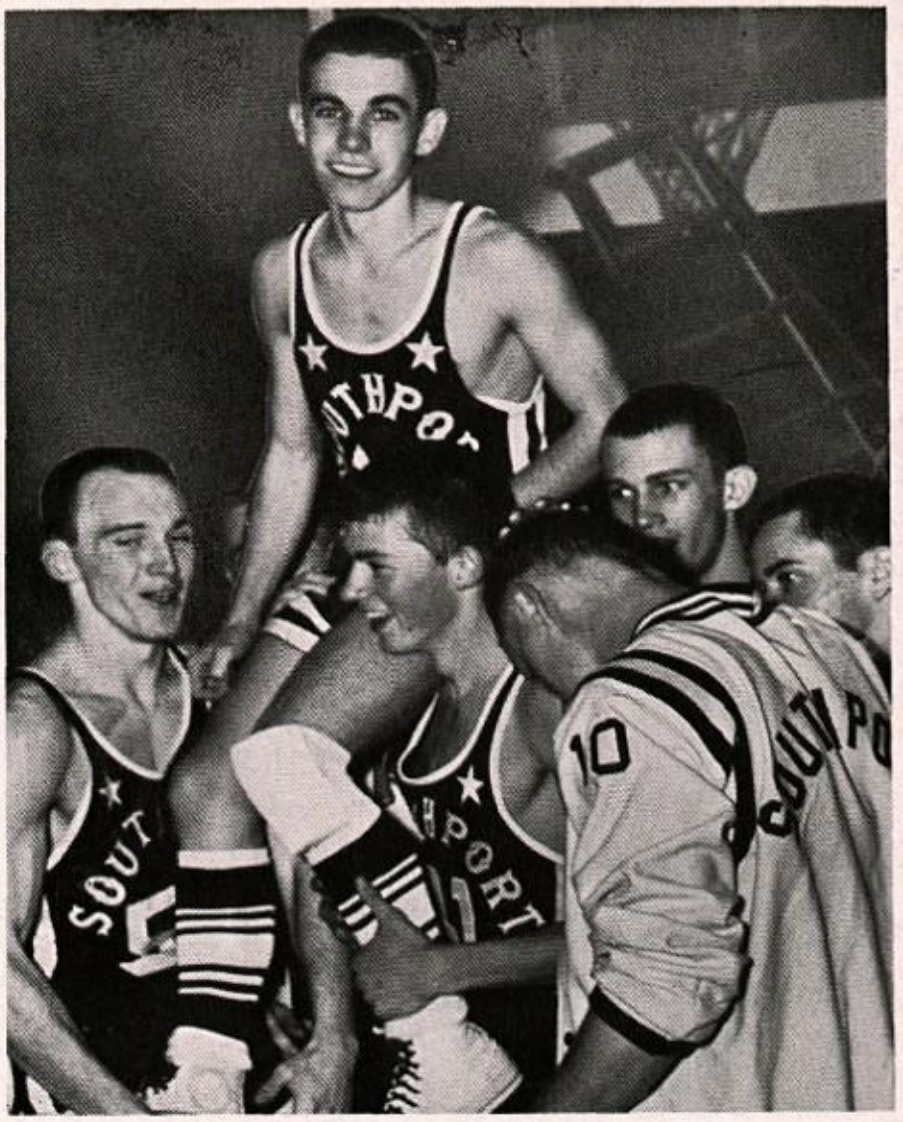
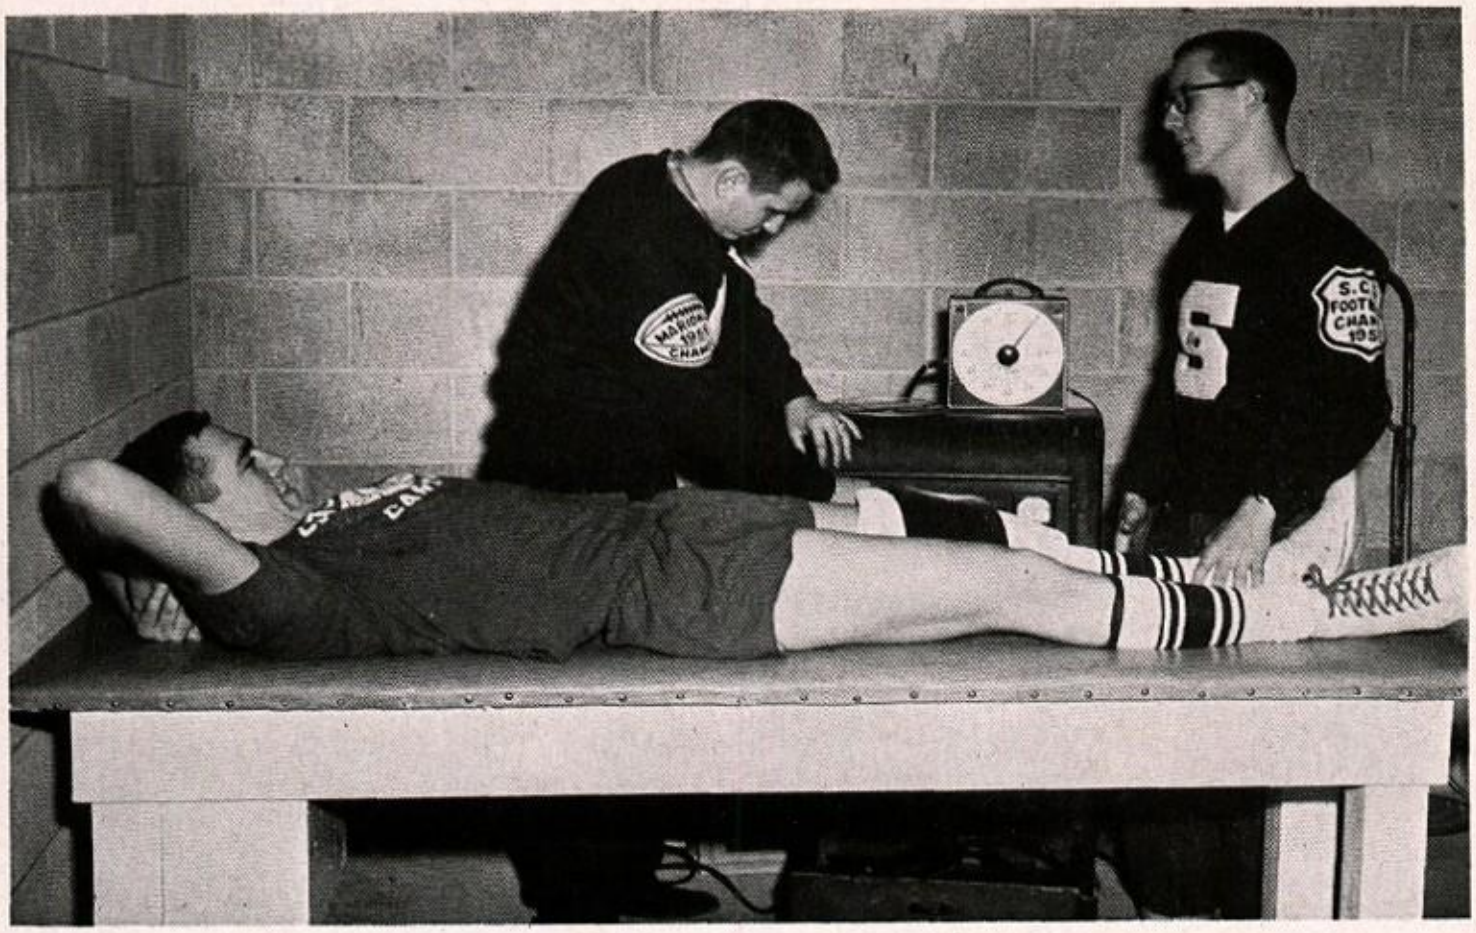
The Look of Success

Southport played host to its first sectional and the gigantic fieldhouse served the occasion very well. Southport's co-favored Cardinals came through the early and rather anti-climactic rounds on a wave of anticipation of the rematch with Manual. The Redskins, lucky in the draw, and having had an equally easy time with preliminary foes, were primed and ready. The final game was a hair-raising, see-saw, overtime battle which had a crowd of 7,500 people on its feet and screaming. With the scoreboard clock showing two seconds, and the score tied 41-41, Dan Woerner, a late season addition to the starting line-up, calmly canned a pair of charity tosses to give Southport a lead which a fruitless Redskin desperation shot could have erased but did not. Southport then journeyed to the Indianapolis Regionals where they coupled rugged rebounding and a .490 shooting percentage to whip an improved Brownsburg team. Given the opportunity to appear in the finals against heavily favored Crispus Attucks, they came onto the floor inspired, and led at the quarter rest 12-10. It soon became evident, however, that the weary Cards were no match for the towering Tigers from Indianapolis. When the gun sounded, the careers of six Cardinals ended, but not before they had carried Southport's banner to the final 32 teams in the state.



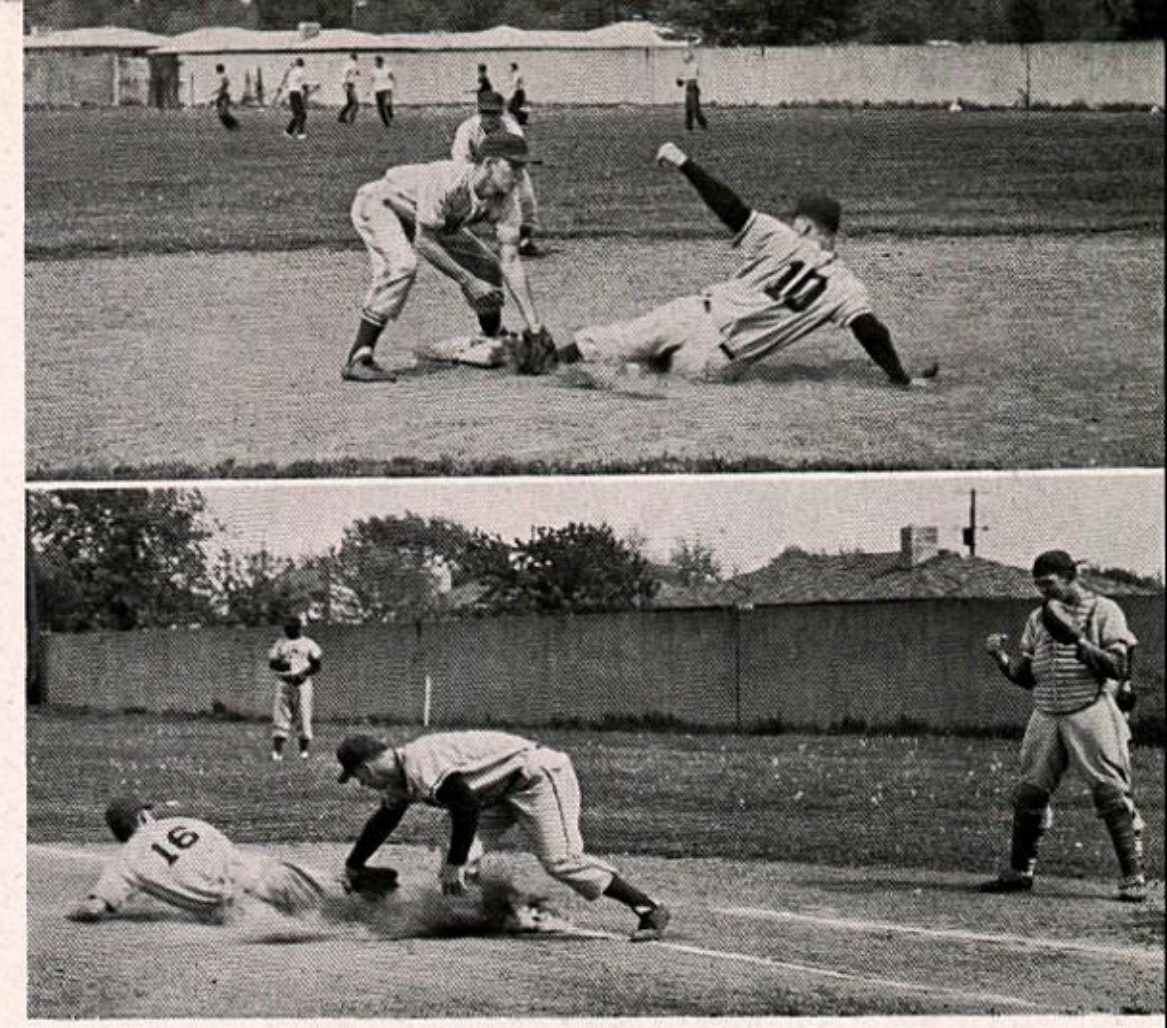


Here in the new dressing room, Steve Briner and Bill Amt carry out one of their many duties as managers. Don Pugh is their "victim" lying on the table. These two managers were the backbone of this year's basketball team.

With visions of varsity stardom the Freshman Basketball team has proved well its ability on the hardwood. Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Dave Bertram, who completed his first year at Southport, the players had a very successful schedule which included the Marion County Freshman Basketball Championship.

From Little Cardinals To Varsity Champs

As the Anchor went to press, practice for the 1959 baseball season was just beginning. In 1958, the cards were plagued by bad weather and lack of a very important ingredient, experience. This year, however, virtually the whole club, is returning, along with some exceptional sophomore talent, and the future is looking bright for the young but experienced new coach, Richard Theil.



Joe Beal tags out a man as he slides into second base in some of 1958's baseball action. Jack Pieper watches the action in another tense scene.

This year a new sport was introduced to Southport—swimming. Following the presentation of the new pool, a swimming team was organized under the direction of Mr. Richard Brunoehler. This sport requires as much training, time and effort as any other sport.

Because swimming is a new sport at Southport, the team did not have a very successful season. The team won one meet and lost nine, but Mr. Brunoehler predicts our having a more successful season next year.

Third row: Bill Liverett, Al Priller, Larry Copeland, Bob Ryan. Grueling Grapplers

For the first time in the history of Southport, the wrestlers have their own wrestling room. In the past, the grapplers have had to use the sub-basement of the Junior High and various other rooms which were available for their use. This new room has ample locker space, a number of mats, and space for wrestling and showers. The wrestlers showed their appreciation of their new quarters by producing a strong team. McDaniel's grapplers placed second in the county and won the sectional and regional. They tied for second place in the state with Richmond; Randy Galvin and Bob Helms were state champions. Southport boasts a record of twelve wins and two losses.

Have Speed Will Run

Track is a sport which requires strict training and superior effort. Time is valuable to the participants and during the early spring, the track boys can be seen running around the block or circling the track to get into shape as they all strive to be the best. Field events are included in the sport of track. Among the field events are such things as shot putting, pole vaulting, high jumping, and broad jumping.

Southport's '58 Track Team won the South Central Conference, won the Bloomington Relays, and placed third in the County. The team also placed second in the Sectionals with Steve Dial placing 2nd in the 880 yard run.

Southport-2nd

Mercury Men

Cross Country is rapidly becoming more popular as a spectator sport at Southport. This sport requires strict training because the race is run on a two-mile course. During the contest, the runner is competing against time, the other runners, and his own endurance. The scoring of Cross Country differs from most sports because the team with fewest points is the victor.

The 1958 Southport Cross Country Team added one new trophy to our trophy case by winning the Marion County Championship. The team was led all season by Mickey Owen, who placed first in the County. The team also finished second in the South Central Conference.

Racquet Squad

Coach Everett Swank's Racquet Squad will probably get its share of Southport's new look in the Spring when courts are to be constructed on the asphalt parking lot.

Tennis is enjoying a growth of popularity throughout the county and the Conference. Southport is no exception to this expansion, for tennis will soon become a letter sport. The team participated in the S.C.C. tournament in both the singles and doubles competition, adding valuable points toward the All-Sports Trophy. They also scheduled many dual meets in both the spring and fall. The members of the team were Row 1: Jon Hittle, Lloyd Tucker, and Dan Woerner; Row 2: Don Williams, Bill Wasson, Coach Swank, Monty Siekerman, and Randy Galvin.

Golf

Last fall, Southport's men of the links spent many long hours "pursuing the pills" around the golf course. They participated in the South Central Conference and Marion County meets, and, aided by two returning lettermen, made excellent showings on both outings. When the Anchor went to press, Coach Krause's Cardinals had a successful season behind them and were looking forward to an even better spring renewal.

Intramurals

The 1959 intramural champions in the Junior-Senior league were the Swamp Stompers. The Freshman-Sophomore champs were a team known as the P.T.P.P. Sportsmanship trophies were presented to Jim Wilson, senior, and Don "Stick" Miller, sophomore, for sportsmanlike conduct and attitude. The championship games were played in true Hoosier Hardwood fashion, with timers, score keepers, well qualified faculty referees, and a presentation ceremony immediately following the games. The intramural progam, under the able leadership of Mr. Jack Morgan, becomes more popular every year. Shown above are the intramural captains.

Zero Zero Service

The boys were not the only ones to take advantage of the new gym this year. There were twenty girls' volleyball teams organized this season, compared with only eleven of last year.

Along with the new teams, there were new rules this season. The most important was that a girl may not hit the ball more than once in an assist.

The captains were chosen from the senior girls, with the juniors as co-captains.

Before the annual tournament started, each team had two practice games. The awards were presented to the winning team at the May Dance.
